

STUDENT GOES TO ALL STATE

Lynn Wanstead, a sophomore, attended All State Band in Louisville on January 10-11-12. There were four students selected from the First District, which consist of Lone Oak, Heath, Reidland, Tilghman, Benton, North Marshall, South Marshall, Murray, Calloway, and Trigg County High school. Lynn, one student from Tilghman and two from Trigg County attended All State. Lynn plays clarinet. She had first chair in her section at All State. There was no competition involved, but Lynn brought honor to our school by her conduct and performance. Also applying for All State from Lone Oak were: Mollie Stom, Linda Churchwell, Jerry Martin, and Danny Hayes.

All State Band is made up of students selected from different schools throughout the state. Students are selected from each high school, and then they attend tryouts in their district. The scores of the best students are sent to Louisville where they select the highest scores from each district to make up the All State Band.

The Music Festival will be held at Murray State College on March 3 and April 13. It is requested that all people interested in playing a piano solo contact Miss Griffin or Mr. Petty before the end of this week.

MR. AND MISS FBLA HAVE BEEN CHOSEN

Mrs. Kay Shields Walton is Miss FBLA for this month. Kay is a senior and is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Shields. Her subjects are: Geometry, English IV, Advanced Government, Journalism, and Bookkeeping.

Larry Jarvis is Mr. FBLA for this month. Larry is a senior and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Jarvis. His subjects are: Bookkeeping, Business Law, English IV, Office Practice, and Industrial Arts.

One boy and girl who have been elected Mr. and Miss FBLA of the Lone Oak chapter and who have enough points to attend convention can be nominated by the members of the club to represent the club in the contest as Mr. and Miss FBLA at the convention. They will be interviewed by Louisville businessmen, and the boy and girl whom they think have the best personality and business capacity will be elected Mr. and Miss FBLA of the State.

On January 20, the Senior Class met in Mrs. North's room to order graduation invitations. Mr. Tom Reulett of Balfour's spoke to the group explaining the price and size of the invitations. The class also discussed the date for a future meeting to decide who Commencement and Baccalaureate speakers will be.

These students are taking their final semester exams. The last few weeks have been filled with the hectic last-minute studying which always goes with tests. The tests will determine whether a student will be able to continue taking certain subjects or if he will "flunk out." Since students rarely study as they should, semester exams are one way some can help raise grades.

COUNTY GRANTS SCHOOLS MONEY

The English Departments of McCracken County have been granted $1.50 per pupil in order to buy English supplies. This will enable McCracken County schools to improve their teaching methods and to provide greater opportunities for the students.

TAB CLUB IS FORMED

The Eighth Grade English Classes have organized a Teen-age Book Club this year. The club is sponsored by Scholastic Magazines Publications to encourage teen-age boys and girls to read more books and to buy economical books which any teenager can afford. In this way they can start building a home library of their own.

The class is organized with a secretary and treasurer for the Club for the entire class, with each of the six English class periods having a secretary-treasurer to collect the order for the club secretary and treasurer who make out the order for the whole class.

During the first semester, such large orders were placed that the English teachers are planning to divide the club with Mrs. Hicks' classes and Mrs. Wyman's classes keeping their orders separate.

The first semester secretary for the club was Charlotte Wenzel and the treasurer was Roger Rives. Mrs. Wyman and Mrs. Hicks were sponsors. The class secretaries in charge of the club orders were: Harolyn Broyles, Cheryl Shepards, Brenda Waters, Brent Gregory, Karen Dahler, and Celia Owens.

Don't Miss Out On Fun Because Of Shyness

Shyness, it's a killer. No matter how clean, how well-dressed, or how neat you are, if you can't look a member of the opposite sex in the eye, what's the good of all your preparation?

No good you're apt to say, but wait a minute. It's not too late.

To begin with everyone is shy to some extent. However many people know how to cover up their shyness better than others.

Frequently shyness is brought on by "newness"—meeting someone new, a first date, or a first day at a particular school. Because it seems important that everyone like you, you become self-conscious, unable to eat, walk, or talk without worrying about what the reaction of a world full of critics will be. But shyness can be managed, and here are some of the ways.

Take a deep breath before you enter a strange room. Stand up straight and smile.

Watch the way other people at a party behave. If it is necessary that you eat among strangers, take small bites, and drink water before you try to talk. When you walk, move slowly. Listen to the conversation being made. People love to talk about themselves, and a girl who is a good audience soon gets the reputation of being a wit when she has scarcely opened her mouth. You'll find yourself so interested in another person's story that you have forgotten to worry about shyness.

There are a million topics of conversation you can deal with. Some of these are your school, its teams, books, movies, and television.

If the worst happens and you spill a dish of ice cream in your lap, don't tense up, laugh. Your laughter will relax everyone and suddenly you have a group of new friends because a person who can take a joke on himself is much-admired.

Shy people have trouble "belonging." They want to be part of the crowd, and don't know how to join in. You'll never make it if you're catty, if you gossip, if your shyness makes you act superior. You will make it if you can relax enough to let your own talents and interests be known. A little shyness is a lovely thing as long as you don't overdo it.

CLUBS

FBLA

The FBLA met on January 9, 1963, at 12:30 in Mrs. North's room. The vice-president, Bobby Rushing, read a scripture and the president, Phyllis Lane, led in saying the FBLA pledge and creed. The club gave points toward convention for members who worked selling peanuts for the pollo drive. Committees were formed to work in the concession stands for the next four home games.

Charles Brown, Jimmie Hicks, and Larry Jarvis went together and planned a party for FBLA members and other students in school. This project was a means for making money for the club and points will be given toward convention to these boys.

The party was held Saturday night, January 19th at the Riding Club. The entertainment was furnished by Johnny Cherry and his band. Approximately 100 people attended the party.

FEMININITY COUNTS

Now that women have won their freedom, can they still expect men to open doors for them, hold chairs for them, and show other signs of respect or have they lost the right to these considerations.

Joy Davies, a Toronto fashion commentator who operates charm schools for both men and women, says yes, women have lost this right, but if they remain feminine the traditional etiquette relationship will continue.

What is being feminine?

"Femininity involves both an attitude and an appearance — an attitude of gentleness and kindness and an appearance of good health, softness, neatness, poise, and radiance."

Since women have been working in the business world, men have lost a great deal of the respect they once had for them and justly so, says Miss Davies.

Many career women have a hard shell — they are loud, they swear, they over-drink, and they over-smoke because they think this is all a part of their new more aggressive role. And I have seen men deliberately flaunt rudeness at such women.

"It is possible to be aggressive in a feminine, charming way."

A gentle voice and manner that persuades rather than demands is one of the tricks, she suggests.

One of the first things Miss Davies stresses to pupils at her charm school is to relax with life. And to do this, she recommends that they stop being so security minded.

Women should stop worrying about what might happen but never does.

Also, if they want to relax, they must organize their time well.

She also encourages her clients to develop a sense of humor—not just the ability to laugh at a funny joke or situation, but at themselves.

FFA PLAYS SANTA

The Lone Oak FFA boys delivered fifteen Christmas baskets to needy people. The boys brought the food and delivered the baskets before the Christmas vacation.

All four of the classes participated. The Freshmen class delivered five baskets, the Sophomores four, the Juniors two, and the Seniors four.

The baskets were made by dividing the classes into groups and each boy brought something. The baskets were delivered by the boys during agriculture class and study halls.

Delivering the baskets was brought to the boys attention during one of the FFA club meetings. All the boys in FFA had to vote on whether they would be made and delivered.

This year the Lone Oak FFA Parliamentary Team will participate in the District FFA contest. The team members are: Larry Burnette, Larry Meadows, Bobby Reeves, Gerald Davenport, Roy Rushing, Gary Thompson, Dickie Thorne, Bill Torian, Jimmy Davenport, Billy Seay.

PLAY IT BY THE RULE

The biggest and best game on earth is played by the Golden Rule. Two or more can play at the same time. To begin the game right, there is one basic rule that you must always remember. You move first.

Another interesting thing about the game is that you do not have to beat to win. In this game you win when you make a friend, and the only way you can make or hold a friend is by first being one. You move first.

Some people try to reverse this rule, try to play the game backwards. Then it ceases to be a game and proves to be a gamble, which you are pretty sure to lose.

The happiest homes in the country are playing the game. The biggest business houses are crazy about the game. This game will eventually become so popular that few people will be left who prefer to beat themselves at solitaire.

The solitaire player's lives are as unproductive as those spent in the bottom of a pool for the bright stars reflected on its surface.

This is a busy old planet and the people who win are the folks who have friendliness in their hearts and a sincere desire to help their neighbors up the hill.

The people who win the biggest blessing this world has to offer—health, love, understanding—are living in accordance with the rules of the great game of life. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

LOHS Aids In Drive

On January 5 and 19, Lone Oak High School participated in the annual Polio Drive. Approximately 60 students worked at roadblocks in Lone Oak, bottom of Trimble Hill, and the intersection of the Old Mayfield Road and the Beltline.

Mrs. Betty Daniels, head of the Lone Oak district planned and carried through the Polio program. Gayland Hargrove and Eddie Clark assisted Mrs. Daniels in getting students to work and planning the schedule by which the road-blocks would be made.

On January 5, $202.00 were collected and on January 19, $212.00 were collected. The High School contributed $100.00 given by students during homeroom periods.

On January 27, an Oral Polio Vaccine was given to residents of the Lone Oak and Hendron communities. This vaccine was administered in the Lone Oak gymnasium between the hours of 11 A.M. and 5 P.M.
