Communist Tactics Discovered After War

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles concerning Communism. This deals with the way Korean prisoners reacted to this "Brainwashing."

Korean Prisoners Acted Differently

"Then something new was added. Before the men came home to us, their letters started coming to us, written by Pfc. John Smith, U. S. Army, eight and a half years of formal education, lower middle class social and economic background, small urban community, and a letter written not as he learned it in composition class back in the ninth grade but in the language of the naturalistic dialectician exhorting Mother to band together with other progressive and informed citizens for the profit of the im-

What Is It?

Some of the students of Lone Oak were quizzed on what they would do if they came face to face with a scarabaeus.

Phyllis Ross — Run
 Bobbie Gatlin — It all depends on what it is

Sondra Thompson — Take off the other way

Joe Sloan — Throw rocks at it
 Joe Henderson — Put it on my car to see if it will run better

June Burks — Scream

Georgena Darnell — Freeze with fright

A scarabaeus is a sacred Egyptian beetle.

"Mr. Guess Who"

Our Mr. Guess Who is a junior now;
 His transportation has changed somehow.
 A '55 Studebaker is more to his liking
 Than in '49 when he went biking.
 He's an NFL'er and plays in the band;
 To algebra, English, typing and history he's turned his hand.
 His brother and sister have guessed his name
 And so must you to win our game.

Mr. Petty and his Cadet Band Members are in the process of moving into the new band room. Although the new building is not completely finished, the band plans to be in its new home from now on.

COMMUNIST TACTICS . . .

perialistic Wall Street war monger. Now coming from Private John Smith, this seemed a little odd, and especially when more and more of these came. Then we saw articles written by similar soldiers appearing in those well-known documents such as the Daily Worker, World, also written by Americans and also written in the Communist dialects . . . .

Odd Behavior Noticed

After all, they couldn't in ten years be so profoundly different, could they, from the men who fought in World War II?

"Then they came home . . . We noticed some very odd things about these American men. First of all, we noticed that they wouldn't talk to each other. They would talk about each other like no Americans we had ever seen before. They would talk about each other with a strange absence of effect, no feeling, no emotion. They simply would talk about each other, anything, but not to each other.

"Then when they were checked out medically, and we knew they were okay, we would say, You can go downtown on a pass if you like and see the sights of Tokyo, which is quite a sight to see. And some did. About one out of five went out on a pass after three years of being locked up by themselves, something soldiers never do.

"Then we noticed that the Red Cross came up with the proposition that you could call home, call anybody you wanted, your friend or your girl or your mother or your wife if you had one, anybody, any place in the United States and talk as long as you wanted, and the Red Cross would pick up the tab. It normally costs five dollars a minute from Japan . . . and we found, curiously enough, that about half of the returning prisoners said there wasn't anybody they thought they wanted to talk to, and that seemed odd.

Torture Suspected

"We jumped to the conclusion, and it was an easy one based upon our apathetical approach to Communism that these men had been subjected to a strange and wonderful and mysterious and irresistible procedure called brain washing. This was something we had been hearing about. It was a procedure apparently in use in China for coercing human beings . . . which involved all the classical forms of inhumanity to man, from the mass execution to the highly organized Communist public lynching which is endorsed by the whole village. It included such things as disruption of families and special diets for certain areas, the redistribution of land and the establishment of a collection farm. It was the Chinese version of the Soviet system."

Mary Burt Nirmaler was winner of the eighth grade county-wide spelling contest held on April 3 at Concord.

Why Don't You Like Baseball?

By Glenn E. Dexter

The majority of our students don't care for baseball. They don't even care to watch it. It's springtime now, and the weather is beautiful. I guess this has been the best spring we have had in many a moon.

To me there is beauty in baseball. It comes at the prettiest time of the year. You get a chance to get out for the first time in several months. Everything has been dead all winter, and to sit in the stands and see the trees beginning to get green and grass popping out of the ground is wonderful. Maybe it is a little cool but we roll our sleeves up or the girls wear their shorts to enjoy the sunshine.

Baseball isn't hard to understand because three strikes and you are out, or four bad pitches and you get to go to first base. Of course, there are a few more terms, but who cares about all those.

Yes, we have started baseball here in high school, and this week you will hear that song "Take Me Out To The Ballgame" over radio and television. To me that is the sweetest song I have ever heard. Just about that time a boy will pass you hollering "Peanuts, peanuts," and, of course, a ballgame isn't complete without a hot dog. Well, so much for all that. We don't have all these things that you might see or get at a professional game but we do have a good team and a good place to play. Oh, yes, we have the peanuts, popcorn, and cold drinks too.

Everyone needs to enjoy more sports and this is a great one to enjoy. Come out at our next game and you will see what I'm talking about. Baseball interest has been built up here and in the county a's in the last few years. Get several together and try this, you will have a wonderful time.

We have a fine team this year. We have new uniforms, and they are beautiful too. These boys work hard in practice and in games to win and play for Lone Oak. Most of these boys were on the team last year when we won our district and also won the Fall League for the second straight year. Some of you didn't even know that. Check our trophy case and see.

I won't make any predictions now, but I will say you will enjoy backing and seeing these boys. They love the game. Mr. Petty has been very nice bringing our band to perform at almost all the home games. Another Department which has helped us this year by altering our new uniforms is the home ec. department. Thanks to all of you from the athletic department, we appreciate your help.

I like to see students enjoy themselves, and if you will come out to the games you will enjoy them.

Durbin hit a three run homer for St. John's.

L. O. BASEBALL TEAM GETS NEW UNIFORMS

The Lone Oak Purple Flash baseball team has begun their march to the Spring Baseball Season Champs. This year the team will be decked out in new uniforms which they have been needing for some time. The uniforms are gray with black trim. They are of good material and have a nice look to them. This year when the team wins they will be in style. We wish to congratulate the baseball team on their new uniforms and wish them lots of luck.
