CELIA OWENS REIGNS AS QUEEN

On the night of January 7th Miss Celia Owens was crowned the Basketball Queen of Lone Oak High School for 1964. Although the ceremony lasted for only a few moments, long hours of work and judgment went into the process of elimination and preparation for the big night.

In January, a general election was held for home room representatives. Each class voted by secret ballot for one of the girls from their respective home room. Each of these girls would actually be a winner, for even if they were not elected as queen, they would serve as attendants to the queen in her court. The girls elected to represent their classes were: seventh grade, Carol Wilkes; eighth grade, Linda Carpenter; ninth grade, Celia Owens; tenth grade, Rosalea Edwards; eleventh grade, Margaret Strong and twelfth grade, Shirley Carmichael.

On Wednesday, after the representatives had been elected, each candidate gave a speech telling why she would like to become Lone Oak Basketball Queen for 1964.

In January, the direct voting for Queen of the basketball season was held. When the winner was announced, the Queen elect, Miss Celia Owens made no secret of her joy and pride at having this honor bestowed upon her. Her attendants were: first attendant, Shirley Carmichael; second attendant, Margaret Strong; third attendant, Rosalea Edwards. The other two previously elected attendants were Carol Wilkes and Linda Carpenter.

The true glory and honor of Lone Oak's Basketball Queen was not fully shown until the night of January 7th when the atmosphere in the gymnasium was soft and glowing and brought out the true beauty of the coronation service.

The stage, illuminated by soft flood lights, was ready for its royal court. In the background was an enormous golden basketball with purple trim. Suspended in mid-air the baby cupid silently awaited her majesty's arrival. Placed beneath the basketball was the queen's throne, a white wrought iron love seat, and arranged in a semi-circular fashion were white wrought iron chairs for her court.

The service, which was sponsored by the Beta Club, began as Gary Detraz along with the Lone Oak Dance Band welcomed the large audience to the occasion.

Next, Charlie Lindsey and Max Garland rolled out the carpet for the queen and her court.

As the court entered the first to be seen were the cheerleaders and their escorts, who were Lone Oak basketball players. The cheerleaders were donned in their uniforms and boasted large mums of gold in a corsage trimmed with purple streamers. Gail Padgett entered first, escorted by Hank Shepherd; they were followed by Sondra Thompson, who was escorted by Ronnie Hayden and Paula Burks, who was escorted by Dick Blackston, Janice Harper and Donnie Harper entered next and were followed by Phyllis Alexander and Bobby Murphy. Paula Metzger and Dickie Coleman ended the procession of cheerleaders and the Junior High attendants entered.

The seventh grade attendant, Carol Wilkes, and her escort, Jimmy Alexander, entered. Carol Wilkes was attired in a ballerina length semi-formal of pastel pink. Her outfit was set off by her wrist corsage of white carnations.

Linda Carpenter, from the eighth grade, and her escort, Terry Barkley, entered next. Linda was dressed in a sheer whirl of white chiffon over taffeta. Her flowers of white carnations completed her attire.

Next the Senior High attendants made their appearance, Sophomore Rosalea Edwards, on the arm of Jay Burnett, entered wearing a dress of Paris pink, designed in a heavenly haze of chiffon over taffeta, trimmed with brocade rose

HER MAJESTY SPEAKS!!!

Have you ever wondered how it would feel to be crowned basketball queen? Well, here is how Miss Celia Owens, Queen of 1963-64, expressed her feelings in an interview with "Oak K" reporter Gail Stratton.

QUESTION: What was your reaction when you were first told that you had been chosen Basketball Queen of L.O.H.S.?

ANSWER: Oh, I was so happy!! I just couldn't believe it. I kept thinking that maybe a mistake had been made and that they would have a recount of the votes.

QUESTION: Celia, how did you feel before you made your grand walk down the aisle?

ANSWER: I was looking at the large crowd, beginning to feel a little afraid, when Mr. Robinson told me to hold my head high. Tears came in my eyes. All I could think of was how lonely and frightened I had felt among all these people when I came here two years ago. — Now these same people had elected me their queen!

A THOUGHT ON MORALITY

By Wade Bolton

A large number of the national magazines have had articles in recent months concerning the decline in morality in the United States. All of the writers seem to present different reasons as to the cause of this degeneration. These reasons ranged from materialism to insecurity. However, I have not read a single article thus far which begins to explain why one should be moral! One could respond by saying that the articles are assuming we have the answer to this question and that the writers are basing their articles on this assumption. However, this assumption could be the partial cause of the degeneration. Have we really answered this question?

Allow me for a few moments to direct your thoughts to a possible conclusion.

Immediately, we can think of two reasons to be moral. One reason we readily accept is the fact that our parents require us to be moral. This is morality based on standards set by our parents for themselves and for us. Another reason for our being moral is that society demands it. We cannot commit certain acts that are considered wrong by people. We have laws which make society safe from those who break these codes.

Yet, in the face of these two of the many generally discussed reasons of morality, we are confronted with one which supercedes each of the two previously mentioned. This is one which makes moral requirements into positive, personal commitments rather than negative, demanding requirements. This ultimate reason to be moral is the fact that I am what I am! I am a unique creation, made by a Creator, a living, walking, talking human being! I owe it to what I am to be moral. The confrontation which makes this have even more meaning is the fact that all other people around me are human beings. I owe it to myself to be moral and I must aid those around me, who are made as I am, to be moral. We should not act to offend those around us or ourselves. We are human beings!

We must admit that men have talked and written about morality for centuries and will continue to do so in the future. We must quickly say that much is involved in the subject which is agreed and disagreed on. However, we can say that society's morals would be better if each individual would stop and attempt to answer the question, "Why be moral?"

NFL

The National Forensic League of Lone Oak met at Lexington, Kentucky on January 18th. Eric Moore won third place in discussion and Lynn Boyd went to the finals in original oratory.

The group participated in extemporaneous speaking, humorous interpretation, debate, original oratory and discussion. The NFL plans to go to student congress at Murray on Saturday, January 25.

The students who went on the trip are: Eric Moore, Chris Perry, Penny Parks, Ann Dunbar, Rita Schnuck, Lucy Lawrence, Lynn Boyd, Bill Anderson, Roger Reeves, and Steve Baker.

Mrs. Neville McCracken and Mr. Garvice Douglas provided transportation for the group.

Jr. Beta Club Aids Peanuts For Polio Drive

On January 4th students were placed at different locations across Paducah to sell twenty-five cases of Peanuts for Polio. All but six cases were sold. The students worked on one of three shifts ranging between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. The Junior Beta Club was in charge of all arrangements.

On January 18th students set up road blocks at various locations around Paducah, to sell the remaining six cases of Peanuts for Polio.

buds. Rosalea's dress was complimented by her corsage of white carnations.

Margaret Strong from the junior class and her escort, Frankie Harris, followed. Margaret was attired in a dress of purest yellow satin with a draped skirt, tiered in the back to reveal the sheerest of white ruffles. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The queen's first attendant, Shirley Carmichael, a senior, entered next, with her escort, Pat Smithson. Shirley had chosen a flattering ensemble of coral brocaded satin, with coral accessories. Her flowers were white carnations.

The flower girls, Ellen Holsouser and Kim Morris came next. They wore identical dresses of red and blue velveteen and carried baskets of rose petals to shower the path of the queen. Next came the crown bearer, David Owens, brother of the queen, who carried the crown of rhinestones on a white satin pillow.

As the band began to play Stardust, silently all eyes focused on the entry of her majesty, the queen, Miss Celia Owens. Her majesty entered in an exquisite floor length formal of sheerest white Silktouch chiffon over taffeta. The scooped bodice was covered with iridescent sequins. Queen Celia was crowned while kneeling on a white satin pillow in front of the throne by John Beaton and was presented a large bouquet of long stemmed red roses. Then Frankie Harris presented her with a basketball, autographed by the basketball players. Queen Celia reigned proudly over her basketball team, receiving a basketball victory over the opposing Heath team.

After the peanuts were sold, the students began taking contributions. The FFA was in charge of arrangements.

We would like to thank each and every one, especially the proprietors of the various places of business, for their cooperation in making the 1964 Peanuts for Polio Drive a big success.

Juniors Present "Stage Door"

"Stage Door" was presented on Friday night, January 24. The play was directed by Miss Wylma Stewart, and she was assisted by Linda Churchwell, student director.

The story portrays a young girl, Terry Randall, who eventually attains stardom on Broadway. It is centered around a boarding-house, where numerous other actresses live. "Stage Door" is a combination of a heart-warming love story, a comedy and a comparison of values.

The following were members of the cast: Maureen Travis, Daralea Franklin, Lola Johnson, Beverly Hammonds, Mary Clark, Rhetta Choice, Tana Underwood, Sue Rose, Paula Burks, Lynn Wanstead, Linda Flint, Kay Kinney, Maritom Sinquefield, Nancy Steinhauer, Janice Harper, Jackie Yeomans, Gail Padgett, Sharon Glisson, James Roberts, Michael Johnston, Bill Weatherspoon, Gary Detraz, Danny Huff, Bill Overstreet, Rickey Pittman, Allen Phelps, and Nathan Davis.

The following were members of the stage crew: James Collier, Charles Cornwell, Douglas Knott, Leroy Railey.

The play was also presented in assembly on Monday, January 27.

HER MAJESTY SPEAKS . . .

QUESTION: How did you feel when you were walking down the long, white carpet and the crowd rose? They rose for you.

ANSWER: I was so proud!! I couldn't imagine anyone standing up for me and when they did it made me so happy. Also, I kept thinking that at one time I was a stranger to everyone at L.O.H.S. and just look, now they were standing for me. I couldn't believe it, it just made me feel so proud!

QUESTION: What were your thoughts when John placed the crown on your head?

ANSWER: All I could think of was that in all the confused excitement, my little brother had forgotten to put the pillow down for me to kneel on. After this small crisis had passed, I knew that this was it! This was The Peak!!

QUESTION: Celia, after you were crowned Queen, John kissed you. What did you think of that?

ANSWER: It wasn't a complete surprise. I knew that he was going to do it. It was very sweet, very tender, though not at all to be compared to a movie kiss! Still, very tender.

QUESTION: Did you know you were going to be presented with the autographed basketball from the team?

ANSWER: No. It was a complete surprise, and I just love surprises!

QUESTION: Is there anything you would like to say to the readers of the "Oak K"?

ANSWER: Just thank you. I know that doesn't sound like much, but I really don't know what to say.

QUESTION: Just one last question Celia. Is this close enough to being "Miss America"?

ANSWER: Oh, yes! Definitely, yes!!!

LIBRARY NEWS

Many new books continue to arrive in the library. Among these have been many science books and new reference books. We hope that all of you will look these new books over and use them to the best advantage possible.

The library drew many complimentary comments before Christmas because of the lovely decorations. Of course, we are very proud of the new furniture and the shelving and have more plans in mind to make the library even more a "place where you like to go". The only trouble with making the library so attractive is the fact that it is also drawing a lot of loafers and courtiers. The rule pertaining to this is that only people checking out a book or people using library material are to be in the library. Please cooperate with us on this situation.

The library club meets every other week and at each of these meetings they try to complete some project that will make the library operate more effectively. At the last club meeting, many books were repaired and placed back into circulation. At another meeting, the magazines were moved from the workroom across the hall to the library. They are much more convenient now for research work.

In our last meeting we ordered our pins and charms. We talked about going to the convention in Frankfort next month. We also had an invitation from Tilghman to attend their meeting on January 22, 1964.

Physical Science Club

The Physical Science Club visited the Lone Oak water district office at their last meeting on January 8, 1964.

The two maintenance men, Bill Coleman and Don Massey (a former Lone Oak student), showed the club how the water meters were repaired and how they registered the amount of water that the families of our community use.

FFA News

The regular monthly meeting of the FFA was held on January 8 in the Agriculture room.

The first item of business was the election of Billy Walters to the office of treasurer.

The chapter then voted to buy a new Polaroid Land Camera and accessories, for use of chapter activities.

It was discussed and voted upon that the chapter would have a Father-Son Banquet during national FFA week, February 16-22. Also during national FFA week there will be a Radio Program on a local radio station, and a window display concerning National FFA week in a downtown store window.

Cheryl Green was elected the Chapter Sweetheart for 1964 — and will attend the Father and Son Banquet.

FHA

Mr. Bolton spoke to us on "Marriage as a cause for school drop-outs." He said marriage needs preparation and five of the most important requisites are: maturity, depth (of understanding), love, patience, and an education. He stated that the most prominent cause for school drop-outs was not being able to look into the future and not being able to understand the financial responsibilities involved. Linda Cruse talked of the roll of mother, daughter, and brother in community life. Cheryl Green, treasurer of FHA, was elected FFA Sweetheart.

TRI-HI-Y

The Lone Oak Tri-Hi-Y met on January 8th in the study hall. At this meeting we discussed the previous meeting of our club. At that time we carried out our annual project of Christmas caroling. Approximately 35 girls caroled at Lourdes and Western Baptist hospitals.

The Lone Oak club was honored this year by being requested to have the Pre-assembly K.Y.A. meeting here at our own school. This will be a district meeting and candidates for the state offices will be selected.

Many girls are working hard to receive points in order to attend K.Y.A. this spring.

Do you know that Tri-Hi-Y:

1. Operates a coat rack at home games, P.J.C. games, and 8th and 9th grade games?
2. Is responsible for the first aid room?
3. Provides the "Thought for the Day" on the daily absentee list?

LONE OAK UPS RECORD TO 12-3

Flash Avenges Tourney Defeat

Lone Oak avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of South Marshall by handing the Rebels their second defeat of the season in a game played at Lone Oak January 3. The Oakers got off to a fast start and led 14-10 at the first stop, but slacked off and trailed 27-22 at the half. Lone Oak's ball-hawking defense held the Rebels to only three points in the third period as the Flash scored eleven.

But South was not ready to quit and went ahead 41-39. Lone Oak regained the lead and held on to win 53-46. John Beaton led Lone Oak with 17 points and Bob Warren led South, also with 17 markers.

L O STOPS NORTH

The Flash of Lone Oak came out on top of the Jets of North Marshall by a score of 74 to 67 in a game at the Oakers' home court January 4.

North was hot as the game started and built an early lead. Then the Flash's offense caught fire and they moved ahead by three at the half. It was nip-and-tuck through the third quarter and Lone Oak was leading by one at the horn. The Jets ran into foul trouble and two players fouled out as the Flash increased their lead and held on for a seven point victory.

The scoring was led by Freddie Howard and Frank Harris of Lone Oak with 26 and 18 points respectively. Stice had 16 for North's best effort.

Lone Oak Runner-up in Christmas Tourney

In the first game played by Lone Oak in the annual Paducah Christmas Tournament December 27, the Lone Oak Purple Flash revenged an earlier loss by defeating the Benton Indians by the score of 69 to 57.

The Flash used an aggressive defense and strength on the boards in downing the Indians. Lone Oak had four men in double figures, Hank Shepherd leading with 17, Freddie Howard with 14, Jay Burnett and Frankie Harris with 10 and 11 respectively.

Gerald Barimore led the scoring for Benton with 14.

In the opener of the tourney the North Marshall Jets triumphed over the Heath Pirates 63-58.

In the semi's the big Purple rolled over the small hard-fighting North Marshall Jets 80 to 71.

The Flash again used its height and big scoring attack with four men in double figures, Jay Burnett, Frank Harris, Freddie Howard, and Hank Shepherd with 24, 18, 15 and 11 respectively.

In the other semi game South Marshall downed the Lowes Blue Devils 60-57 in overtime leaving Lone Oak and South Marshall for the finals.

In the consolation game Lowes broke all scoring records for the tournament in tromping North 103-87.

The final game was not so happy for the Flash although they played a good game while falling in defeat 56-52.

The Flash showed its superior bench strength as they came from behind to a 48-41 lead with five minutes to go. The South Marshall press was just a little too much as they stole the ball several successive times, leading to the downfall of Lone Oak.

John Beaton was the leading scorer for Lone Oak with 15.

Lone Oak Crushes Reidland

Lone Oak combined a balanced scoring attack, an effective fast-break, and strength on the boards in downing Reidland 83 to 60 at Lone Oak on December 6.

The Flash gradually pulled away from a five point advantage in the first quarter to a 17 point halftime lead. The margin was as much as 35 points in the second half before the starters left the game.

Freddie Howard led the Oakers with 20 points. Frankie Harris, Jay Burnett, and Hank Shepherd rounded out the double-figure scoring with 19, 15, and 10 respectively. Ronnie Bishop and Phil Hayden paced Reidland with 24 and 21 points.

OAKERS SINK PIRATES

On the night of January 7, 1964, Lone Oak's Flashy Five presented newly crowned queen Celia Owens with a basketball victory over county rival Heath. The game was very close during the first half, with Heath leading 10 to 8 at the end of the eight minutes. At the half-way mark Lone Oak held a slim 22 to 19 lead. At the end of the third quarter the Flash had pulled away to a 46 to 37 lead and during most of the fourth quarter Lone Oak held a lead of 8 to 11 points. As time began to run out though the Pirates cut the lead to only 2 points and the visitors had a chance to tie the game with two free throws. Heath missed on both chances and the Oakers grabbed the ball and moved quickly down-court to pick up two points. Heath's last effort was to no avail as time ran out with the Flash ahead 59 to 57. Jay Burnett led Lone Oak with 19 points and Billy Don Harper and John Beaton chipped in with 10 each. Don Crews had 20 and Jimmy Long 14 for Heath's top efforts.

FLASH DOWNS SEDALIA

The Lone Oak Purple Flash continued their winning ways since Christmas by defeating Sedalia 58 to 50 at Sedalia on January 10.

The Flash pulled away from Ken Wray's fighting quintet in the final four minutes of the game to raise their record to 11 and 3.

The Oakers placed four men in double-figures in their balanced scoring attack. John Beaton led the way with 16 points, followed by Frankie Harris, Jay Burnett, and Freddie Howard with 14, 11, and 10. The Lions of Sedalia were paced by Larry Camp's 21 markers. Dennis Mullins added 15 for the losers.

Lone Oak Nudges Tilghman

January 17, Paducah Tilghman High School, the Flash racked-up its 12th victory in defeating the Tornado 49-39.

The Tornado used a zone defense and a slow-down offense in holding the Purple Flash to 49 points.

Freddie Howard led the scoring for Lone Oak with 16 followed by Frank Harris and Jay Burnett with eleven each.

Ray Gregory led the losers with 17 markers.
