

LINDSEY AND MYERS WIN 'DEBATE OF THE MONTH' TROPHY

LOHS Choir To Sing In Fine Arts Festival

The 63-voice A Cappella Choir will participate in the McCracken County Combined Choir which will conclude the Paducah Fine Arts Festival, November 18. The choir will be composed of students from Heath, Lone Oak, St. Mary, Reidland, and Tilghman high schools and will be conducted by Professor Robert K. Baar, of Murray State University. The 285-voice choir will perform the music of the Quad-State Choral Festival which was held November 6 at MSU. A performance by the Murray State University Choir, conducted by Professor Baar, will also be presented on the program at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night.

The Paducah Tilghman chapter of the National Thespians Society has taken the responsibility for laying a very important corner-stone in the city's cultural construction. They are sponsoring the first Paducah Fine Arts Festival, which will open November 10th and run through the 18th. Mr. Joseph C. Miller, speech and drama teacher at Paducah Tilghman, is co-ordinator and Mr. Ron McCool is art director.

The Festival will open Friday, November 10 with the Paducah Tilghman drama department presenting a play entitled, "The Lady's Not For Burning". The play, directed by Mr. Miller will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 8:00 p.m. in the Tilghman Auditorium.

During the week art exhibits will be displayed in the Tilghman lobby and at Value Village in the Hannan Plaza Shopping Center. The art on display will be the work of students in the McCracken County public schools. There will be no admission charge.

The Fine Arts Association will hold their "kick-off" meeting November 15 at 10:47 a.m. The meeting will be in the Tilghman Auditorium.

Thursday, November 16, the music departments of Paducah Tilghman High School will present a concert in the Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Friday, November 17, contains an extremely busy schedule for the culture-minded. Beginning at 9:00 a.m. an Invitational One-Act Play Tournament will be conducted at Paducah Tilghman, Jetton Junior High, and the Market House Theatre. This tournament will continue until 5:00 Friday afternoon and will open again Saturday morning at 8:00 and end at noon. At this time trophies and awards will be presented to the best actors and actresses. The tournament will include students from Maysville, Bowling Green, Cincinnati, and Murray besides local students. The play tournament is open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

Friday night rehearsals will be conducted for the Paducah-McCracken County combined high school choir which will perform Saturday night. A banquet will also be held in Tilghman cafeteria for the members of the combined choir and the One-Act Play contestants.

The Paducah Fine Arts Festival is a trial presentation and is organized for the advancement of the public relations of Paducah and McCracken County.

Doug Myers and Charley Lindsey

On Saturday, October 14, Charles Lindsey and Douglas Myers returned from Lexington with smiling faces reflected in a big, bright, shining silver bowl. The bowl was the trophy they were awarded for winning the Debate of the Month — defeating the Sacred Heart debate team.

The Debate of the Month is held each month at the University of Kentucky and is sponsored by the Student Forum, a university speech organization. Special invitations are issued to qualified debate teams throughout the state. To qualify for an invitation, the team members must have active speech records — not only in tournaments and school offices, but in community activities as well. Qualifications are high and the winner of the traveling trophy is automatically invited back to debate the following month.

If one school wins the trophy three consecutive months, that school is then taken out of the monthly competition and invited to the Debate of the Year in May. The winners of this debate are then awarded the trophy permanently.

On November 18, Charley and Doug will return to Lexington to defend their trophy against Murray University High. All students from area schools are invited to attend the debate held at the UK Student Union building at 9:00 A.M.

Seventy-three Students Make First Honor Roll

To make the "Oak K" Honor Roll, a student must have all A's and B's and be taking four solid subjects. Twelve students went even higher with all A's. Sixty-one students had all A's and B's.

Seniors receiving all A's are Cindy Hughes, Steve Owen, and Brenda Wurth. Juniors are Jacques Bauer, Johnny McIntosh, and Diane Ward. Janet Borgerding, sophomore, made all A's. Karen Baker, Carol Cruse, Johnny Hoffman, Philip Spees and Patti Williams were the freshmen having all A's.

Seniors of the A and B Honor Roll are Jimmie Arnold, Verlaine Arnold, Kathie Bichon, Laura Churchwell, Gail Corder, Valerie Ford, Bruce Gladish, Gennie Goode, Steve Hollowell, Marsha Jacobs, Julie Kazmierzak, Vicki Quertermous, and Paula Thurston.

'Back to School' Is PTA Theme

The November 13 program of the LOHS Parent-Teacher Association, in accordance with American Education Week, will be "Back to School Night". All parents and interested friends are invited to attend and acquaint themselves with their students' curriculum and teachers. Social Hour will be sponsored by the Junior Homeroom Representatives.

The October PTA program consisted of a lecture and demonstration on programmed teaching machines, conducted by Mr. Vechel Rather. Mr. Garvis Douglas, Cultural and Spiritual Life Chairman, gave the devotional, and Mrs. Robert Terry conducted a brief business meeting, at which the 1967-68 budget was read and approved. The officers and committee chairmen were introduced by Mrs. Terry. Mr. Dexter, Faculty Advisor for the PTA introduced the LOHS faculty. Refreshments were served by Senior Homeroom Representatives.

11 STUDENTS TO ATTEND QUAD-STATE

The 20th annual Quad-State Music Festival was held Monday, November 6 in the Waterfield Student Union Building at Murray State University. Professor Robert K. Baar conducted the 250-voice choir.

Those representing LOHS were: Sopranos — Dinah Mullinax, Patty Legeay and Dianne Garnett, Altos — Gennie Goode, Valerie Ford and Cheryl Hughes, Tenors — Charles Lindsey, Don Presley and David Hughes, Basses — R. L. Summers, Dwayne Burnette and Keith Seay.

The Quad-State Choir performed three sacred numbers including "Cantique de Jean Racine" by Gabriel Fauré. Two secular numbers, entitled "Yellow Dog-September!" by Don Gillis and "This Train" by Yarrow and Stookey, lightened the atmosphere for the hard-working vocalists.

The music performed at Quad-State Music Festival will also be performed by the City-County Choir in the Paducah Fine Arts Festival November 18 at Tilghman Auditorium.

Student Council officers aren't up a tree, they're attempting new heights for Lone Oak for '67-'68.

Student Council Officers Planning Progressive Ideas For Coming Year

Action is the word for the Lone Oak Student Council! Workers is the word for the class representatives and officers of the council!

On October 24, the council met to discuss suggestions for the coming year. Among these suggestions are:

1. A "boosters" bus to away-games
2. Repairing the coat room
3. Printing a directory with the phone numbers of the students and the faculty
4. Having dances in the gym

(This is to be decided in the next School Board meeting)

The Lone Oak Student Council recently joined the Kentucky Association of Student Councils. Several members of the McCracken County high school student councils will attend a regional meeting in Russellville, Kentucky on the 18th of November.

Support of the student body and faculty will determine the success of the council!

Student's Demonstrate Forensic Competition

The Lone Oak High School NFL presented an assembly before the student body October 10, in the gymnasium. The speech students gave demonstrations of the various categories in NFL competition. The main purpose of the assembly was to show the student body what the speech students do in tournament events.

Participants in the assembly and their categories were: Linda Gillespie — humorous interpretation, Marvis Lisso — poetry, Pam Groben and Gayle Doyle — dramatic interpretation, Karon Baker — poetry, Vicki Stayton — prose, and Charley Lindsey and Doug Myers — extemporaneous speaking. Charley Lindsey also acted as chairman for the group.

Junior Magazine Drive Most Successful Ever

The Lone Oak junior class recently completed the most successful magazine drive in the history of the school.

The drive began on September 27 when captains were chosen from the home rooms of each junior advisor. They were to handle the finances in these rooms. Chosen were Cathy Downs (Mrs. Adams), Judy Alderson (Mrs. Spangler), Rickey Tabor (Mr. Adams), Lynn Hicks (Mrs. Brugger), Don Presley (Miss Stewart), and Donna McElrath and Jan McKinney (Mrs. Goheen).

Prizes were awarded to the highest salesmen. The winners were Eddie Keeling, Scott Wagner, Judy Alderson, and Jean Anne Renfro. Each of these was given a choice of several items.

The purpose of the sale was to teach each student the art of salesmanship as well as earn money to finance the Junior-Senior Prom.

A Word To All Students

There is nothing as important as having good school spirit! Take pride in your school and do everything you can to have a good one. Get interested in something and you will find you have a good school here. You will have made it good.

Basketball season is just around the corner so start making plans to attend the games and help support your team. We are looking forward to one of the best teams ever this year. I believe in setting goals and we should set our basketball season for state tournament. We have never made it, so how about it, students?

I am sorry you have to wait so long to eat in the cafeteria but there is nothing else we can do now. Please help all you can by keeping the noise down while in line and while you are eating. We must also have a few more students to eat in the cafeteria if we are to continue to serve good food as we have been.

Some students are failing in their studies. Now is the time to work harder in all classes. Most of us always wait too long. All the teachers will help you if you are trying. Most of it will have to be done by you. Let's don't have any students to fail next six weeks. This is more important to you than anything in your life.

May I say again, I appreciate what most of you are doing to help make this the best school anywhere — a few need to help a little more.

Study Habits Challenged

What obstacles hinder the study habits of the average student and what solutions can be found?

It seems that we are all hard workers at heart. We start out with good intentions but for some reason wander from them. The matter at hand is consequently averted.

Maybe it is the weather, which makes us frisky. Perhaps it is the stolidity of the subject. The problem may lie in our busy social lives or in the constant outside pressures — or, alas, in our lack of foresight or true self-concern.

How many times have you sat down with the sole intention of studying—only to have disaster strike?

You suddenly become deeply concerned for your own welfare. You decide you've been working too hard at school work and had best give way to temptation for your personal, physical well-being.

After some rest, you get into a little confab on the phone to further your recuperation. Before you know it, the night has slipped away and your studies must wait till tomorrow.

Anyone can see this perpetual cycle of temptation and concession and the importance to students of finding a solution.

From this account we can see that the remedy must be the separation of our various non-scholastic worries from our studies. The whole world must be shut out as we relieve ourselves of the mounting environmental pressures. The destiny of America and the entire world depends upon the students' study habits, as they will be the leaders of tomorrow. From poor students evolve poor leaders. The call for better study habits must be answered to save the world from ignorance and illiteracy.

Clublicity

The Tri-Hi-Y is going to have an active month ahead of them. Already scheduled are bake sales on October 28 and November 4, at Paducah Dry, Value Village, and Shoppers Fair. The proceeds will help send thirteen girls to KUNA in Louisville.

Attending the KUNA convention are Brenda Canup, Cabinet Member 67-68, Cindy Carter, Gail Corder, Kathy Dallas, Suzanne Elliot, Gayle Hall, Jenna Hodges, Robin Lentz, Nancy Moore, Gayle Murphy, Debbie Manning, Charlotte Shoulta and Brenda Wurth.

The club's service projects include gifts for servicemen in Viet Nam, patients at Western State Hospital, magazines for nursing homes and visiting the Friendly Home.

Music students gave the program for the Music Club, "Reflections of Our Time", Charles Lindsey, Patty Legeay, and Sammy Hargrove performed folk music and one of their own compositions.

Tracy Morris and Patty Legeay sang "Tie Me Kangaroo Down, Sport" and accompanied themselves on ukuleles. The sponsors are Mr. Petty and Mr. Throgmorton.

The FHA sponsored their annual "Learning Night" during the month of October. The girls set goals which they plan to reach in the 67-68 school year.

The officers attended a district meeting at Fulton County High School.

The annual Stanley Products Sale was brought to an end with the proceeds going for the Mother-Daughter Banquet in the Spring.

The FTA officers for the 1967-68 year are as follows: Janis Steinhauer, president; Dinah Mul-linax, vice president; Jacquie Bauer, secretary-treasurer. The three officers attended the Future Teachers of America Conference held in Murray on the 17th of October.

At the last club meeting of FTA guest speakers were welcomed from the West Kentucky Center for Handicapped Children. Slides of the center and its pupils were shown and the students were given a chance to ask questions.

On October 28, 1967, the Future Business Leaders of America sponsored a "Sell Our Services" Day, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Jobs were contracted before the SOS Day and fulfilled on Saturday. It turned out to be a huge success.

Also on the agenda for the club year is a new pantry project, sponsored by Public As- See CLUBLICITY Page 4

Quisps Quit

BECKY O'KEEFE

The time is 1998. The setting is earth.

Have you ever wondered why you never see space ships anymore? Curious, isn't it? Years ago people were always reporting sightings of unidentified flying objects, UFO's they were crudely called. Then suddenly these sightings ceased to occur. Few people have ever questioned this abrupt halt of sightings.

Flying saucers had been all but forgotten until only a few weeks ago when I, pilot 1007, landed on Quisp.

Much to my dismay, I discovered the planet to be inhabited by small green people with red eyes and huge ears. It was after I explained who I was to the Grand Wizard, their leader, that I learned why Quispians never visit earth anymore.

One day, years ago, three Quispian named, (oddly enough) Snap, Crackle and Pop, accidentally landed on earth. Being very much like the mischievous elves they resemble, they decided to stay on earth for a day or two to see what was happening.

After concealing their HyPo powered space ship in some bushes, they continued on their way to find some action.

Snap, being the most adventurous, decided they should visit a populated area so they could see more at once. Snap took one look at the sidewalk and zoomed ahead of the others.

He flew directly up to a cute

THIS IS A TEACHER

Webster defines a "teacher" as "one who guides in studies; instructs; trains; and helps one to learn skill". A teacher should be concerned with education but there are many more qualifications a teacher should have.

If a student knows that the teacher takes a personal interest in him and has thoughts about him individually, he tries much harder to learn what the teacher is trying to teach.

If something is done well, a few words of praise work wonders. Constructive criticism can be of great value to a student, but too much harsh criticism can depress a student to the point that he resents help and loses the desire to learn.

A teacher should be able to look into a student's mind and know what he needs to help him gain the mature knowledge required to handle adult decisions which will appear in the future.

Teachers should always remember that they were once the age of the students and that they too had individual problems. If there is a lack of understanding, there can never be that certain relationship that causes a student to want to learn.

Teachers must deal with students in such a way that they are respected. But if there is a knowledge of concern and the student knows he is respected for being a person, his respect for the teacher comes freely and willingly.

parking meter and asked, "What's a nice girl like you doing in a place like this?" At this exact moment her reply popped up. It read "expired". Snap decided her super-energy supply must be exhausted. Poor thing—so young! He then joined the others.

They all decided that while they were on earth they should at least try to look like earthlings. It was impossible to hide the red eyes, enormous ears, or

A Teenage Soul Talks To The World

JAN WILKINS

Stop world! Look at me! I want to be friends with you. Listen for just a minute please. Hurry for I'll not be here long. My life on earth is brief.

Don't be scared off by my outer shell. Rebellion is my only link between the past and the present. I'm not as bad as I seem.

All I ask from you is a little attention. I have opinions and beliefs of my own now. I want to talk with you.

I want not only to be seen, but to be heard as well. I have things to say and questions to ask. Give me a chance.

I am young and full of spirit. I'm no longer too frightened to stand alone. Now is the time you cut the pattern of my future. Everything you say and do leaves some kind of impression on me.

I am restless. I refuse to accept situations the way they are. I want to help make them better. Have patience with me. There is much for me to learn.

I wear many masks but they are all transparent. I may try to fool you but without success. You can see through my masks.

Once I'm gone I can never be restored. My spirit is priceless and cannot be bought. My past falls in shadows but you hold the light of my future. I strive to please you.

I am sensitive, though, so please don't laugh at my mistakes. Try to help me but not to understand me. You must not know more about me than I know myself. I am only testing my new convictions and wish to revise them myself.

We can be best-of-pals if we both try hard. I need the guidance of your experience and you need my youth. In competition we would both fail. Together we at least have a chance. You have years of experience and I have years of time. What do you say we get together!

What Is A Band Student?

A band student is a special person. He has been blessed with several characteristic traits. Among these are:

1. The ability to have faith in decisions though they seem doubtful.
2. The patience to accept problems and work them out.
3. A deep love of perfection.
4. A strong desire to win.
5. The ability to understand and forgive.

Band is more than a course for half a credit. It is a chance to learn to love, and love to live.

Band rounds out the students. It leads them to the path of understanding and through the door to self-expression.

A band student puts his band above all other things. Band always comes first! He may find the director is more familiar than his family. For this reason a close relationship is vital between the students and the teacher.

Responsibilities weigh heavily on the shoulders of every band student. Therefore, the students must have a spirit that cannot break under pressure.

A band student is persistent. He does not give up when the going gets rough. Instead, he works a little harder.

Loyalty is important to all bands. It brings the students closer together. It also makes way for vital pride.

Each band student is an individualist. He listens to the ideas of others. But believes only what he feels is right. He may, however, after careful examination of new ideas, conform to a different way of thinking.

Sacrifice is common to band students. Rehearsals are not always convenient or exciting.

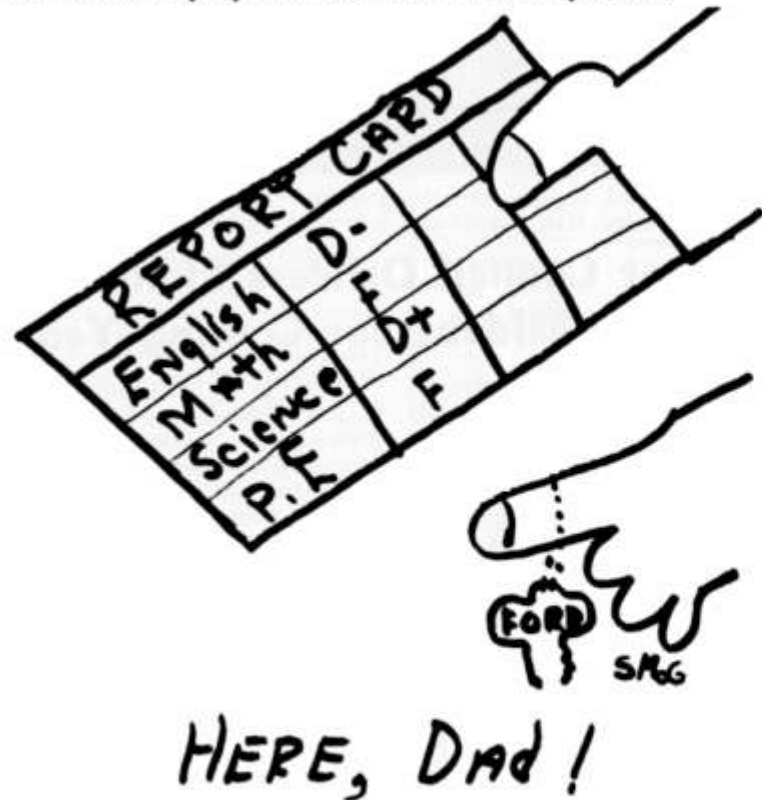

Above all, band students are high spirited. They are eager to learn, and want to please. They long for self-satisfaction!

Junior Hi Jinks

Lone Oak Junior High School announces the election of the 1967-1968 cheerleading squad. The girls elected to the 7th grade cheerleader squad by the student body were Lil McKinney, Susan Owen, and Kim Boren. The 8th grade cheerleaders are Nancy Alexander, Jane Ann Morris, Teresa Mullinax, Kathy Buchanan, and Karla Turley.

This year's squads reveal all new faces except for Nancy Alexander, the only returning member from last year's squad.

The girls' cheerleading sponsor is Mrs. Cheryl Vaughn.

Report cards have been issued and LOJHS announces 15 students made all A's during the first six-week term.

Those 7th graders making all A's were Gloria Jones, Don Eaker, Leslie Perdew, Kaye Reeder, Frances Hall, and Linda Casey.

The students of the 8th grade earning all A's were Jill Clark, Tana Downs, Jane Dunbar, David LeDoux, Jerry Nirmaier, Sally Skiba, Donna Pinner, Karen Wilkins, and Pam Williams.

This year's basketball team is presently engaged in the task of getting in tip-top condition. Their goal is to improve their last year's season record and again capture the County Championship.

Mr. David King, their coach, is working hard with the boys with this goal in mind.

The boys on the 8th grade team are Rocky Massey, Tony Dallas, Mike Gardener, Jan Shelton, Steve Ramage, John Riley, Mark Dycus, and Andy Carfield.

Mysterious Tattletale Speaks

Let me introduce myself, I am the "Mysterious Tattletale". I see a lot of what's going on at Lone Oak and I'm going to "tattle" on a few people.

The other day I saw Talley Bailey and Susan McGuire, both juniors, receive medals for outstanding performances in Marching Band. They thought no one but the band would ever know!

A few days later Rodney Baker was complimented on the fine job he was doing during a band rehearsal. Rodney is a senior and is president of the Student Council.

Vickie Pirtle, a senior, says, "It's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice."

The Marching Kentucky Colonels of Lone Oak High School won first place in "A" competition in the annual Banana Festival. Randy Hendon was awarded the title of "Best Drum-major."

The band also did a tremendous job at Mayfield in street competition and on the field. Mr. Petty was "especially pleased with the spirit of the band."

A Cappella Sings Into Musical Year

The LOHS A Cappella Choir has started this year with determination to be one of the finest choirs in the state. Mr. Throgmorton has prepared a schedule which is anything but easy.

On October 26 they performed for the Federation of Women's Clubs which met at Broadway Methodist Church. Several choir members represented the choir at Quad State Music Festival November 6. The complete choir will participate in the Paducah-McCracken County Choral Festival to be held at Paducah Tighman High School November 18. A Christmas Concert is also being planned. For this concert the choir will perform "A Ceremony of Carols", a collection of old English carols set to a contemporary pattern by Benjamin Britten. One of the most enjoyable and relaxed performances will be a spring concert of "pop" music.

The choir enrollment this year has topped sixty. But Mr. Throgmorton made this statement, "We cannot be sixty-three choir members, we have to be one choir."

Oak "K" Reporters Jane Parker and Jimmy Arnold rush to meet a deadline.

Teacher Of Month

This month we would like to introduce our teacher of the month, Mr. Edward Ellis.

This is Mr. Ellis' first year of teaching. He is teaching American History and says he enjoys teaching at Lone Oak High.

Mr. Ellis graduated from the University of Tennessee in Martin, and turned down a job in Mounds, Illinois to come to Paducah. One of the things he commented on about his college life is that he feels higher education is not just for career-minded people, but for everyone. He feels that people should have goals to work toward.

He hopes that some day he will write several books. Right now he is toying with the idea of writing a biography of John Steinbeck. Someday he hopes he will be able to write a story of Hitler and also some kind of novel.

When asked why he preferred to have his classes keep notes from his dictation, and to give essay tests, he replied, "It causes people to create a chain of thought during a test, instead of just remembering a few dates and happenings." He also said he likes to "knock em in the head" with pop tests occasionally.

Mr. Ellis commented on the style of teen-age clothes. He believes that teen-age clothes are designed mainly for comfort and looks, and lean toward sloppiness. He feels that self-expression is the essence of today's teen-age clothes.

Band Ten Commandments

1. Thou shalt consider the band as thy family—with other band students as thy brothers.
2. Thou shalt honor thy band director and have faith in all his decisions.
3. Thou shalt know when to work and when to relax.
4. Thou shalt give 110% of thy efforts at all rehearsals.
5. Thou shalt not condemn a brother when he makes mistakes but help him do better.
6. Thou shalt practice for results, not for time.
7. Thou shalt settle for the best only. But thou shalt take failure when it comes and learn from it.
8. Thou shalt stand tall and hold thy head high. A band's dignity is from the chin up.
9. Thou shalt have a good attitude and a lot of spirit at all times.
10. Thou shalt not discuss band problems with outsiders. Seek comfort in thy director, for he has been chosen by God to be a good listener.

The 1966-67 "Oak Leaves" were distributed on October 9, 1967. The annuals included the activities for the entire '66-67 school year. For several days the school was in a turmoil as students eagerly signed annuals.

Rhonda, Straub, Jeff Givens, Donna Corder, and Debbie Turley are trying to improve our foreign relations. They and the rest of Mr. Goodman's fourth hour World History class are writing to students of various countries.

On October 25, the seniors met in the gym to hear a talk by Mr. Eldridge of Murray State University. Mr. Eldridge invited the seniors to think about their futures.

One of the major highlights of this school year was the crowning of "Lu Lu" Douglas as queen of the parent-teacher ballgame! Gayle Hall, Stephanie Roussel, Katie Hodges, Rhonda Hendon, Johnna McIntosh, Wanda Hendon, Holly Hughes, and Donna Presley were the outstanding cheerleaders of the game.

with tremendous amounts of gooey cream on their faces. Surely, these women were being punished for some crime. They decided not to stay around and find out what kind.

They hurried away to find the leader of this horrible planet. They entered an official looking building and after fifty revolutions of the revolving door, they were a few shades greener.

This must be the trap set to capture victims of beauty shops and dances, they thought when they were free. They never found the leader. They didn't really dare to try.

After a hurried return to Quisp, Snap, Crackle and Pop reported to the Grand Wizard all the horrors they found on earth. From that day forward all Quispian were forbidden to approach earth. No telling what might happen to them.

PTA BATTLES BASKETBALL

Basketball or free for all? October 24, the Lone Oak PTA had its annual Parent-Teacher game, and it took place here in the gym. All the proceeds went to the John Robinson Scholarship Fund. Some lucky senior will be able to further his education with it.

As the game began, none of the women seemed to know which end of the ball was flat. But they got the hang of it as the game went on and they really got down to business.

When the men started, it was rough and tumble. On the opening tip-off "Nervous Norris" got run down by one of those big parents, but he got up and scored about 10 straight points. It was a pretty tiring game for all of those men and women that were out of shape. They all created a "big scene" for the crowd and most of the crowd found the game very amusing. The women teachers got beat this year but the men teachers came through and beat the parents. During the time between games they crowned the Queen. She was "Lu Lu" Douglas. She was a beautiful sight to behold — draped in onions and peppers with a grass sack cape.

If I had asked some of the teachers their opinions of the game, it might have gone something like this . . . Mrs. Nagel — "How did you like that touch-down I made." Mrs. Beckman —

Coach Miller 'peppers' the queen with royalty.

"Did you see that home run of mine?" Mrs. Maddox — "That was the first hole-in-one of my life!" Evidently somebody forgot to tell them that they were playing basketball. It's not whether we won or not, but whether there was money made for the John Robinson Scholarship Fund!

sistance. Members will stock a "pantry" in Mrs. North's room and Public Assistance will call on the club for food when needed.

FBLA will have a new parliamentary procedure team to take to the state convention in Louisville this year. The members of the team are: R. L. Summers, Dwayne Burnette, Ann Sowell, Molly Griffith, and Sonnie Hunt. Lone Oak has never had an FBLA parliamentary procedure team representing the school before. FBLA is proud of the team and wishes them luck at the convention.

The traveling plaque won at the national convention in San Francisco last year by the Kentucky team of girls, Pam Scheer of Lone Oak, Vicki Waits of Frankfort, and Mary Bischoff of Louisville, arrived at Lone Oak on October 24. The plaque will be kept here for a while.

Mr. Barkley Travis, of the Jackson Purchase RECC spoke to the club at the November club meeting on Public Relations. Mr. Travis is well known for his dealings in Public Relations and has also worked with youth groups throughout the community.

The Math Club will be selling programs for the 1967-68 basketball season and purple and gold shakers. The profits made by this will sponsor the LOHS Math Tournament in April.

The NFL tournament has been postponed. Too many schools were planning tournaments on that weekend for it to be an assured success.

The Drama Club held elections at its regular meeting. Grabbing the honor of Stage Manager was Betty Pierce. In a "down to the wire" race for Assistant Stage Manager, Betsey Gatlin triumphed.

Jane Parker was elected to do the paper work for the club and was named Scribe. The "grueling" job of Reporter was won by Wayne Hendon.

LOHS CHEERLEADERS COMPETE IN CLINIC AT BOWLING GREEN

Gennie Goode, Nancy Simmons, and Sandra Mohler represented the A team cheerleaders at the Western State Cheerleading Clinic at Bowling Green, October 14. Representing the B team squad were Kathie Stanley, Jan McKinney, Marcie Maddox, and Patti Bailey.

Over 100 schools were represented by more than 1,000 cheerleaders. The program included demonstrations of pep, yells, pom poms, and tumbling as well as competition events.

Dempsey Doodles

On October 27th the pre-season Heath Jamboree was held. The annual coaches' dinner was held on Friday, October 20, for the drawings.

The teams participating in this year's Jamboree were as follows:

- First game — Heath vs. Carlisle County
- Second game — Lone Oak vs. Ballard Memorial
- Third game — Saint Mary vs. Sedalia
- Fourth game — Lyon County vs. Reidland

The games consisted of one twelve minute quarter and only two time-outs. Tip-off time was at 7:30 p.m. Of course everyone is now aware of the outcome.
