Carriage House Presents Variety Of Famous Plays

The Carriage House Players returned to Lone Oak Monday, November 18, for two performances. The first, given at 9:10 a.m., was "A Festival of Theatre." The second presentation at 7:30 was "Julius Caesar," by William Shakespeare.

At the morning performance students from Reidland, Heath, St. Mary and Brookport High Schools attended. Also attending were several residents of the Lone Oak area.

"A Festival of Theatre" was narrated by Mr. Ramey, the troop's director. Approximately 1,500 attended. The "Festival" included such plays and parts of plays as "Othello," "Everyman," "The Romantic Young Lady," and "Antigone." Mr. Ramey's narration was informative of the history of the theatre from its origin to today.

The performance of "Julius Caesar" was presented to an audience of less than 100 people.

The Carriage House Players are centered in Louisville, and they make yearly tours through Paducah.

Library Aides Go To SLACK

Student librarians from Lone Oak and Heath attended SLACK in Murray, Friday, November 22. SLACK, Student Library Assistants Club of Kentucky, is an annual first district convention held at MSU. The middle schools were also present at Murray.

The convention delegates were conducted on a tour of the University library after which they met in the auditorium. The invocation was given by the vice-president, Charles Grisham of Sedalia. Mrs. Rezina Senter, Library Science teacher, gave a lecture on the "Duties of a Librarian." One of the comments she made was that, "No one could know it all." She said, however, that librarians should know where to look for it.

There was a short break during which bulletin boards were judged. Two South Marshall boys entertained the convention by playing guitars and singing. There was a short fashion show also presented by South Marshall which featured as a sidelight several recent best-sellers.

There was a short business. See Slack, Page 4

College Students Teach Now

Meet Lone Oak's five student teachers. They are: Mrs. Jo Nell Fletcher, Mrs. Delores Stewart, Mr. Gordon Griffin, Mr. Phil Petro, and Mr. Jim Seymore. Before receiving a degree to teach, a college student must have nine weeks of student teaching. During these nine weeks a student teacher is under the supervision of a regular teacher. He may be given an entire class to teach or he may just teach at certain times.

Mrs. Jo Nell Fletcher is student teaching under Mrs. North. Mrs. Fletcher resides in Mc-

Projects Help Classes Understand Daily Life In Elizabethan England

Models included a chair, gallows, pirate flags, and gowns.

The clock has been turned back 400 years in room 203. Mrs. Miller's classes are studying Elizabethan England. As part of their studies, they held a typical Elizabethan dinner. Research was done and five girls prepared the food and two boys provided the drink. The menu consisted of chicken and sauce, prepared by Vickie Hendricks; baked potatoes stuffed with sausage, brought by Lisa Tate; Christy Boren provided Plain Coss Salad; Pam Garland made plain bread pudding; Susan Melber prepared homemade bread for the class. Steve Koster and Richie Stubblefield found out that cider was the main drink of the day and brought it for the class. All the food was prepared as it might have been in Queen Elizabeth's day. The recipes had to be translated from an Elizabethan cookbook that didn't even give the quantities.

This was the graphic illustration of the threefold assignment of Mrs. Miller's first and fourth hour English classes.

Each student was to take some facet of everyday life in Elizabethan times and research it. Then he would do a written

New Choir Gives Swingin' Concert

Murphy's Soda Shop was the scene for the Swing Choir concert held on Monday night, November 25, 1968. This program was special to the group because it was the first concert they had performed for the public this year.

To start off the evening, they sang "Up, Up and Away." They then sang five other numbers: "Heather on the Hill," "One Hand, One Heart," "Three Coins in the Fountain," "Guantanamo" and "I'll Set My Love to Music."

Afterwards, there was a short intermission. The next six selections were: "What Now My Love," "Charade," "Once Upon a Time," "Moon River" and "Ebb Tide." They closed by singing "Goodnight My Someone."

The proceeds from the concert will buy costumes for the use of the Swing Choir at later dates.

MERRY CHRISTMAS, HAPPY NEW YEAR

Principal Sends Greeting

"Wouldn't it be nice if we had an intercom system in our school?" Mr. Dexter, during a recent interview, agreed that it would save time and speed office-to-classroom communication. He also said that we must remember the plans which are in the air for constructing a new high school in the next ten years. To spend thousands of dollars for the intercom and then move to another school would not be practical.

He also stated, "LOHS has received an invitation to the Christmas Tournament and I hope that we will be able to take our great basketball team to Murray Regionals this year."

As for the approaching holiday season, he said, "Students should remember during this Christmas season to try to help the less fortunate, so everyone can have a very Merry Christmas."

Students Make New Promises

Kathy Wetton

Since the old year is almost gone, what are some of our Lone Oak students resolving to do and be in the coming year? Here are some of the replies in answer to the question, "What is your New Year's Resolution?"

Seniors: Debbie Misere — "to make another trip to Europe this summer."

Susan Weatherington—"not to make another trip to Europe this summer."

Earnestine Smith—"not to misspell words in honors English."

Juniors: Jenna Hodges — "not to fall down the stairs any more."

Patti Bailey—"to grow a foot and a half (up)."

Cindy Pierce—"not to lose my 'cool'."

Sophomores: Shelia Buchanan—"not to yell at David when he burps."

Diane Sawyer—"not to get in Alderson's rank again."

Steve Riley—"not to write any more sentences for Mr. Wells."

Freshmen: Mark Dixon—"to grow."

Jane Singley—"to be good in 'Coach Lowe's' class."

Bill Mitchell—"to learn how to type."

Teachers: Mr. Adams—"not to make any resolutions."

Mr. Kelly — "to try to give better grades."

Mr. Wells—"to give up resolutions."

From this, you can draw your own conclusions as to what they mean. What is your New Year's resolution?

Dear Santa,

Since you're the guy who brings presents to kids—well, most kids usually tell you what they want for Christmas. But me, you see, I never get what I ask for. So I'm going to tell you what I don't and maybe I won't get it this time. Please don't bring me a doll, bubble bath, powder, toilet water, a book of poetry, cuff links, a bow tie, an electric curler set, a comic book, or nothin' like any of these things. I'll leave it up to you to decide what I want for Christmas.

Your friend,
Craig

Christmas Visitor

Debbie Misere

As I made my semi-annual (Christmas and Easter) visit to the neighborhood mental institution, I noticed the Christmas decorations hanging from lights, ceilings and staircases. I saw the many Christmas trees in the rooms of the patients. But as I entered Room 13, I came across a little man who aroused my sympathy. I not only found him a little touched in the head, but also physically hurt. Suddenly I felt a strange desire to see a small green Christmas tree in the man's room . . . but there was not one in sight. I thought to myself, how could this man stay in this room day after day, during this great season and not know the hustle and bustle of Christmas going on all around him.

My thoughts were suddenly interrupted by an attendant in a white uniform. "This man," he began. I silenced him. I was too absorbed in the pitiful case before me. His left foot was covered in bandages. Crutches were lying beside his bed. A former football hero perhaps, before his sudden change of mind. Around his head was another bandage. There were cuts on his face. Why, he could even be a soldier recently returned from Viet Nam. His neck was limp. It looked as though it had been twisted. One of his arms was in a sling.

He wouldn't have impressed me so much if it hadn't been for his peculiar actions. On his face was a shy optimistic smile. He seemed to be muttering some monotonous chant under his breath. It was this that led me to recognize him as a complete odd-ball. Suddenly he saw me and an expression of delight fell upon his pitiful face. I started

LOHS Marches In Two Parades For The Holidays

The LOHS Kentucky Colonel Marching Band, stepping high, helped Hopkinsville and Paducah "kick off" their Christmas festivities in November. They participated in Paducah's Christmas parade on Friday night, November 22. On Saturday, November 23, the band traveled to Hopkinsville for another performance.

Several members of the band tried out for the third annual All City-County Band on December 7. The concert will be on February 2 in Tilghman's auditorium. Mr. Leonard B. Smith, a cornet specialist from New York will be the guest conductor.

A Cappella Choir Has New Group

Lone Oak now has a new choir group known as the Madrigals. Those chosen from the A Cappella choir are as follows:

Sophomores: Kathy Hunt, Brenda McIntosh and Diane Sawyer.

Juniors: Jennie Barriger, Clyde Benton, Mike Goodman, Teresa Harned, Sonnie Hunt, Marcie Maddox, Tracey Morris, Pat Parker, Dale Prince and Malissa Wilkins.

Seniors: Dwayne Burnett, Larry Davis, Dave McClure and Todd Singley.

On December 4, the Madrigals participated in a half day Madrigal Clinic held at Paducah Community College.

My Memories

Kathy Wetton

New Year is a time of sadness and joy. Sadness because the year is ending and joy at beginning all over again. You can forget all of your goofy mistakes and vow not to make them again. I always do anyway.

- I remember . . .
- playing in the snow at "the eyes"
- riding around at midnight in the rain
- slaving on a term paper and getting a B double +
- having the mumps KEA week
- the first day I had my senior ring
- having to collect 50 gold candelabra for the prom
- getting attacked by bats in Mammoth Cave
- my first plane ride
- going 51 hours without sleep
- trying to speak German, French and Italian
- seeing the Pope
- falling in love
- dropping my ham sandwich in the capitol of Switzerland
- swimming on the French Riviera
- starting back to school
- realizing I'm a senior and this is my last year
- getting caught rolling Mrs. Miller's house
- the election
- seeing "Gone With the Wind"
- being hypnotized

All of these things and more I remember and cherish whether they be bad or good. It's been a very good year. Do you remember?

December Clublicity

The Physical Science Club made a trip to the Land Between the Lakes on December 12 and 13. There were approximately 45 people on the trip. Four instructors and two counselors were present. During the daytime the students were divided into five groups, each group studying something different for a period of about three hours. After the group's lunch hour they changed trails and subject matter and went out for another session. The work is correctly named "outdoor classroom" study. During the December meeting, students, teachers and counselors were instructed of the regular routine at the Youth Education Center during the time they will be there.

Tri-H-Y has completed four projects during the holiday season. They have collected and sent Thanksgiving baskets and current magazines to the underprivileged in the Paducah area. The club has sent gifts to the Western State Hospital and Outwood, a clinic for mentally retarded children. Tri-H-Y has also sent Christmas boxes to former Lone Oak graduates who are now serving in Viet Nam.

On Saturday, November 16, the FBIA collected $220 in addition to a $15 donation for the telephone. The club members brought canned goods and money for Thanksgiving baskets which were given to needy families. The club also sent 800 letters to parents to remind them of PTA's "back to school" night. On November 27, the FBIA gave their annual Thanksgiving tea for all the school personnel.

In carrying out their purpose of public speaking and debate the NFL has made two recent trips. One was to Trigg County and the latter, on December 7, was to Henry Clay.

The National Beta Club is in charge of the Senior Citizen's Night on December 19. In addition to sponsoring this annual event, the club has amended the

Dear Santa,
Well I'm writing again this year. I thought you'd be glad to hear from me. I hope reading this letter doesn't take up too much of your time. I really did appreciate the little brother you gave me, but it wasn't necessary. I would have settled for a puppy. I just loved all of the cool toys you gave me last year. I couldn't ride my bike though. Mom was afraid I'd run over baby brother. The train was great. Baby brother chewed the wheels off when he started cutting his teeth. The drum I got played wonderfully. Baby brother fell on it and broke the paper on it.
Yes, Santa I sure did appreciate you giving me baby brother but please don't do it again.
Yours truly,

Beta Club constitution and is discussing what their gift will be to Lone Oak when they graduate.

At their November meeting, the Hi-Y's guest speaker was Christoph Jungjohann, the foreign exchange student from Germany. The club has also decided to send Christmas fruit baskets to the elderly.

During the Christmas Drama Club meeting, the members viewed a film entitled "The Spirit of Christmas." Gary Mitchell was in charge of the program. Kenny Garnett, who was elected the Drama Club's devotional chairman, led the group in a short devotion and prayer.

The Music Club has had different singers from surrounding areas during their monthly meetings. At the November meeting, the Chamber Choir from Paducah Community College presented a concert.

On Friday, November 22, the Library Club attended SLACK (Student Library Assistance Clubs of Kentucky). Judy Nelson, a member of the junior class, was elected secretary of the SLACK Club. For the benefit of the students in the study hall, the club is selling pencils. The Library Club has also processed 288 books for use in the library, and equal number of books are on order.

PTA Successful In Member Drive

"The Lone Oak High School PTA is off to a very good start," says PTA President, Mrs. Frank Nagel. The annual PTA membership drive is over for another year with amazing results. 574 members were recruited for the 1968-69 business year.

The PTA has already had two programs. The next meeting will be in February and will be combined with the PTA's from the Elementary and the Middle Schools. The meeting will be held in the Middle School gym on February 3. The February meeting will be in observance of Founder's Day.

Officers for the 68-69 school term are: Mrs. Frank Nagel, president; Mrs. Bill Hendon, vice president; Mrs. D. O. Price, secretary; and Mrs. J. L. Huff, treasurer.

Dear Santa,
I have a question and it concerns you. No offense, Santa, but are you—er—I mean—could you be schizophrenic? It's not that I doubt you—you know I believe and trust in you, but I saw you seven times in Paducah. Maybe you just really get around. You can leave an answer with the rest of the loot. OK?

MR. DOUGLAS

Mr. Douglas Is Oak 'K' Choice For December

Mr. Douglas is the teacher of the month for the month of December. Mr. Douglas was born in Hazel, Kentucky and graduated from Hazel High School. Mr. Douglas furthered his education by attending Murray State University. He graduated with his B.S. and M.A. from Murray. Murray University was his choice because "It was convenient and I could live at home and drive to school."

Mr. Douglas is especially interested in chemistry and the physical sciences. He has been teaching the sciences at LOHS for the past ten years.

Mr. Douglas was principal of Pilot Oak High School and Farmington High School. He has taught at Pryor Junior High School in Graves County and Oscar Consolidated Schools in Ballard County. He also taught one semester at P.C.C. in the English Department.

When asked what he thought about the students this year, he replied, "The students this year are more serious-minded and have a better attitude toward their school work and school responsibilities."

Mr. Douglas—and Mrs. Douglas, math teacher at LOHS, have been living in Lone Oak since 1942. He plans to teach until he is forced to retire. He says, "If I am still in good health I would like to teach at P.C.C."

Chatty Kathy

Kathy Wetton

I thought, to begin with, we ought to salute our hardworking office assistants. We have 19 students giving up their studyhall time to work in the three offices. Working with Mrs. Powell are: Sammie Benton, Patsy Stokes, Diane Ward, Belinda Vanvactor, Joyce Walker, Phillip Mason, Billie Lane and Mary Jane Edwards. Helping Mr. Atherton are: June Walker, Christy Boren, Nancy Leath, Bertie Jennings and Diane Ward. Mr. Adams is aided by: Marcie May, Pam Garland, Kathy Wetton, Jan McKinney and Linda Thomasson.

Another neglected group is the journalism class. There is a great deal more to putting out a paper than most people realize. From this class are selected honor students who form the Quill and Scroll. Quill and Scroll is an honorary journalism society. We are proud to announce that Lone Oak has 17 members of this organization. Seniors belonging are: Jacque Bauer, Debbie Misere, Belinda Vanvactor, Susan Weatherington, Kathy Wetton, Pat Housman, Susan McGuire, Karon Floyd, Nancy Leath, Mike Conrad, Todd Singley, John Sarles, Brad Johnson and Wayne Hendon. The three juniors are: Marsha Beaton, Judy Box and Jenna Hodges.

This seems to be a year of firsts for Lone Oak. This is the first time we have ever had any girls to go to the Tilghman trade school. There are five juniors and two seniors: Donna Hamlin, Phyllis Kincaannon, Brenda Grimes, Pam Hogan, Sue Smith, Jane Richie and Nancy Cook.

Lone Oak had eight students participating in the annual production of "The Messiah." It was presented by the Paducah Community Chorus at the Tilghman gymnasium Dec. 15. They were: Cindy Carter, Sheila Buchanan, Steve Anderson, David Hughes, Tommy Hughes, Clyde Benton, Tracey Morris and Malissa Wilkins.

The other day an interesting sight occurred. I was standing in the hall in front of the office when Ricky Goode and Skipper Skiba walked in carrying a speed limit sign. They had been with Mrs. Beckman's biology class to Lone Oak park where they discovered it in a ditch. They immediately brought it back to the school and left it in Mr. Adams office. Perhaps it belongs in the hall at lunch!

Hey, gang, if you see anything funny happen—make a note of it and give it to one of the journalism students. It just might end up in the "Golden Goof." It won't be long until it's time for us to start putting it together. It's a good way to get even with that certain friend or teacher that's been bugging you and it's fun for the rest of us to read, too.

Gotta go, gang. MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Christmas Visitor, From Page 3 to leave thinking the man was a little less harmless than I had imagined. "Don't be afraid," said the attendant, "he wouldn't harm a flea."

Before I knew it, the poor fellow motioned with his good arm for me to come here. He wanted to tell me something, I thought, so I listened carefully as he whispered confidentially into my ear. "Have you done your Christmas shopping yet?" I astonishingly replied in the negative. To that the little man leaned over toward me and earnestly pleaded, "Do your Christmas shopping early. Remember, there are only 5 shopping days left till Christmas."

Dear Santa,

You and I have been good buddies for years, I know that this year you are really going to give me something nice because I've been so good.

First of all I would like a carton of rotten eggs to throw (fresh eggs don't smell enough), moths to eat daddy's fake Santa suit, and some poison darts to shoot at my sister. Then I guess you could throw in a couple of bicycles and maybe a shirt or two to make my mother happy.

Thanks a lot, Mike

Xmas Tourny Tossup

December 27 and 28, seven teams will be attempting to dethrone Paducah Tilghman as winner of its own Christmas Invitational Tournament in 1967.

Tilghman is in the victory seat because of a thrilling victory over rival, Mayfield. Although Mayfield does not appear in this year's tournament field, there are seven other teams that hope to win the coveted tournament trophy.

Five teams will repeat this year's tournament — Lone Oak, Heath, North Marshall, South Marshall, and host Tilghman. New teams in this year's tournament are Benton, Lowes, and Ballard Memorial.

Drawings were held the 8th of December. Four teams will make up each bracket, upper and lower.

First round contests will be held Friday, December 27, while semi-final consolation and championship games will be played on Saturday, December 28.

meeting and then the election of officers. Lone Oak nominated Ann Sowell for president and Judy Nelson for secretary-treasurer. Ann Sowell was beaten in a close race, but Judy Nelson won and was installed after the elections.

Mrs. Maddox Leaves LOHS Finds New Home In Georgia

Lone Oak is losing one of its favorite teachers when the Christmas vacation begins. Mrs. David Maddox is moving to Marietta, Georgia and her last day of teaching will be December 20.

Mrs. Maddox's husband has accepted a managerial position with General Adjustment Bureau, Inc., in Marietta.

The Pythagorean Math Club and the cheerleaders have been sponsored by Mrs. Maddox. She has traveled and worked with the varsity cheerleaders during the football season and has helped them get started on the basketball season. The Math Club has been guided by her through the Math Tournaments and through the many program sales.

In the past seven years Mrs. Maddox has taught geometry, algebra and trigonometry. She holds a major in Math and Physical Education.

Anyone who has had Mrs. Maddox for a class has heard all about her children. The twins and John David have gone down in the hearts and minds of her students.

One of John's comments when he saw Mrs. Maddox's new house, was that he was going to like living in the "long cabin." Karen said it's "okay," and Kathy said it was "groovy."

Marcy Maddox will stay at LOHS until the first semester ends in January. This will allow her to cheer for Lone Oak at the Christmas Tournament and the other ballgames.

Lone Oak's students and teachers will miss Mrs. Maddox when she leaves and she will not soon be forgotten. As for Mrs. Maddox, she says she will miss most "everyone" and that she will be crying "crocodile" tears as she leaves.

Dear Santa,

Please give me a new blanket. My old one is just about worn out.

Projects, From Page 1

paper, an oral report and a graphic illustration. The illustrations were to be authentic, whether made or brought for display. The interesting exhibit has been on display in room 203 for some time.

One of the projects was model ships brought by Doug Harrall, Phil Phillips and Steve Roussel.

Larry Davis made a replica of an old English headman's ax. Monty Riley, also taking an interest in the unusual, made a model of an Elizabethan torture chamber, and Gene Leeper made a life sized workable torture rack. Meanwhile, Joey Ripley was laboring over a tin foil suit of armor.

Shelia Robinson dressed two dolls in the upper class fashions of the 1500's. The lady was in red velvet and the man in kneepants.

Diane Ward and Connie Pittman, also taking an interest in clothes, decided to make life-size outfits for a man and a woman of the middle class.

Connie Brown and Nancy Adams chose to make a scale model of the old Globe Theatre. The Globe was a Shakespearean theatre three stories high and the largest in England.

Craig Northington made a model of the typical manor house. It was constructed of cardboard and realistically painted.

Jerry Don Adams painted a three foot stained glass window on cardboard.

Talley Bailey chose Elizabethan road hazards and made a plaster model of about an acre of country. He used real greenery, tiny people, and a model cart.

There were many others covering all facets of everyday life in the late 1500's to the early 1600's. The projects were well done and the students probably learned a lot more by doing them than they would have by hours of study. Learning isn't all bad.

"It can be delicious."
