Merry Christmas

Kentucky Colonel Marching Band is Governor's Guest

The Kentucky Colonel Band was the guest of Lieutenant Governor Julian Carroll, as it represented McCracken County in the governor's inauguration. The band members left school at noon Dec. 6 and went to Lexington, where they stayed in the Ramada Inn.

Tuesday, after a very short night, the Colonels traveled to Frankfort. The four-one-half hour parade included 128 bands, with over 17,000 participants. The band toured the state capital building and saw the governor's mansion. The group arrived home at approximately 10:30 p.m. Dec. 7.

Superintendent of schools, Dr. David K. Stewart, was presented with an honorary, white Colonel hat. The band members soon discovered that Dr. Stewart, who traveled with the band, is a real cool person to have around.

Mrs. Spangler is Teacher Of Month

The teacher with the smile button and the beautiful white teeth has been chosen Teacher of the Month by the OK staff. Mrs. Spangler has been teaching some form of math here at Lone Oak for almost five years. She is a graduate of Carson Newman College and has taught for a total of eight years. She has taught in Louisville and Ballard County.

Besides teaching, Mrs. Spangler takes care of a husband, two sons, a daughter, and a home. She is very active in the Lone Oak Baptist Church activities since she is the Junior-Senior Sunday School teacher. Mrs. Spangler is also a sponsor of the Math Club.

Mrs. Spangler's husband, Rev. Otto Spangler, is also involved with Lone Oak. He is the BSU campus director for the colleges in this area. Rev. Spangler was the speaker at Baccalaureate last year and he has also spoken at Career Day.

Rev. Spangler has recently accepted the position of campus minister of the University of Florida at Gainesville. This means the Spangler's will be leaving at Christmas. We take this opportunity to thank Mr. and Mrs. Spangler for their involvement and help with the youth of Lone Oak. Though they haven't lived here very long, they have made a special place for themselves here. Their contribution to our personal and academic education can not be measured. We are happy that their lives crossed ours and we will miss them.

43 Delegates Attend 13th Annual KUNA

Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y sent 43 delegates to the Kentucky United Nations Assembly in Louisville. Tri-Hi-Y represented the country of Brazil at the mock assembly, while Hi-Y attended as the delegation from Sweden. This was the 13th annual event of its kind. About 400 high school students attended.

Lone Oak landed two of the six state offices. Jayne Moore was elected president of the Security Council. Kent Beckman was named president of the Trusteeship Council.

Karl Westrin, our exchange student from Sweden, addressed the assembly in Swedish. Marlis Ringe spoke in German, as Eddie Ellis translated. Other foreign speakers were from Switzerland and India. Advisors on the trip were Miss Linda Baker, Mrs. Gwen Helfer, Mrs. George Runge and Mr. and Mrs. Russ White.

Three Tri-Hi-Y delegates served as cabinet members--Jane Gillen, Brenda Murphey, and Jayne Moore. In next year's cabinet will be Teresa Lanham, Jan Dew, and Ron Bacon.

Delegates attending were Valerie Beavers, Patti Boyd, Amy Capizanno, Nancy Carter, Jan Dew, Pam Doane, Jill Eddings, Karen Garnett, Jane Gillen, Polly Herrington, Teresa Lanham, Carol Lentz, Terri Lynn, Jayne Moore, Jo Ann Mullican, Brenda Murphey, Susan Owen, Joy Pearson, Carla

Industrial Arts and Business Departments Offer New Courses

This year Lone Oak has initiated a new program called Business and Office CO-OP which is financed by the Bureau of Vocational Education. The program is open to seniors who have completed four classes in business prior to the co-op program. In addition these students must be interested in business as a career after high school or as a study in college.

At the present, there are 13 girls enrolled in the co-op program. They attend school in the morning and work afternoons and Saturdays. Miss Stewart secured the position for the girls, but she does insist they look themselves to become familiar with the employment market. Those who do not wish to co-op may enter simulated office practice which entails working in the school office for two hours each day.

Business and office co-opserves to bridge the gap between classroom training and on the job situations. The participants on the average receive the minimal wage. The employers are willing to pay these students as they train them. This helps the businesses and the school.

These students have assumed a large responsibility. They have maintained a high attendance record. Not only must they function efficiently on the job, they must remember they are examples of Lone Oak High School.

Anyone interested in enrolling in this program for next year should contact Miss Stewart immediately.

Teresa Mullinax Is Chosen as Junior Rotarian

Teresa Mullinax was chosen by Mr. Dexter as December's Junior Rotarian. Teresa will meet with the Rotary Club and other Junior Rotarians from different schools every Wednesday during the month of December, at the Cabana Club. During these meetings lunch is served and then a special program with a guest speaker follows. The speaker for last weeks meeting was Leonard Hart, who talked about The Computer Program at PCC.

When Teresa was asked her opinion of the Rotary Club and its meetings her reply was, "They are a real good group of people and I really enjoyed the meetings."

Slick Herndon Is New Miss America

On Nov. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lone Oak High School gymnasium, the first "Miss America Pageant" for men was held. There were 50 contestants representing all 50 states. The pageant was sponsored by the Lone Oak PTA. Glenn Dexter, Lone Oak High School principal as Miss Kentucky, was chosen "Miss Congeniality." Slick Herndon, Miss Louisiana, was crowned "Miss USA." He was presented a dozen red roses and a crown. The 11 semi-finalists were: Mr. Stephenson, Miss Alaska; Mr. Jackson, Miss California; Mr. Buckingham, Miss Delaware; Mr. Logan, Miss Maine; Mr. Mc-

Groaty, Miss Nebraska; Mr. Coil, Miss Rhode Island; Mr. Ransdell, Miss New Hampshire; Mr. Spangler, Miss South Carolina; Mr. Hobbs, Miss Texas; Mr. Boyd, Miss West Virginia; and Mr. Herndon, Miss Louisiana.

A break was taken and the five finalists were chosen. They were: 5th runnerup-Miss Alaska, 4th runnerup-Miss Delaware, 3rd runnerup-Miss West Virginia, 2nd runnerup-Miss Texas, and Miss Louisiana-Miss U.S.A.

Entertainment was provided by Mr. Sensing and his group, Mr. Garvice Douglas, and Mr. Bill Spears.

Annual Turtle Race Is Sponsored By NFL

Well, once again the turtles invaded Lone Oak. Yes, the NFL sponsored their annual Turtle Race. On Nov. 24, the turtles made their appearance in the LOHS gym.

It was a tough race but FCA's turtle, Waldo, managed to come through first. In all there were four heats. Even though FCA took the big honor, trophies were won by the choir, the cafeteria workers and first period Home Ec. 1.

It was rough but at last count only one turtle died. So everyone out there should make it a point to show their appreciation to all the trainers for doing a fine job.

By the way, the money collected at the race goes for a good cause. NFL uses the money for association membership fees, and to cover expenses for speech tournaments.

Local Band Plays In National Rock Group Competition

Krebitch and Kompany, a local pop band, recently made a four day trip to Jacksonville, Fla. where they competed against five other bands for National winner. They performed before judges for 20 minutes. Among the songs Krebitch played were "Make Me Smile," "Country Road," "She Came in Through the Bathroom Window," and "Oye Come Va." The judges picked four finalists to give a 10 minute show. Krebitch was picked to play but ran out for the final shows and they did not get to play in the finals. This gave them no chance for First Place. They finished in 4th Place.

The members of Krebitch were accompanied by Bill Jackson. Mr. Jackson is a Jaycee from Fulton, Ky. He served as their chaperone.

Lone Oak claims four of the members of Krebitch and Kompany. They are Bill McCaig, lead singer; David Phillips, lead guitar; Wesley Pryor, drums; Norris Sherrill, lead guitar. The other members of the group are Darrell Boyd, PCC, bass guitar; Steve Anderson, Murray State University; trombone, back-up singer; Steve Byerly, Reidland, organ; and Eddie Yancy, Reidland, trumpet and back-up singer.

Cutting Capers

Have you ever been standing in the front of the lunch line and then it happens. The lunch line cutters come crashing down the steps, not caring about anything except beating their buddy to the front of the line. Five minutes later you're still standing there just as if the line in front of you has not moved one inch. Most of the cutters don't have the nerve or enough guts to move on their own, they have to rely on someone else to move first. No one likes waiting in line for anything, so when a person cuts line he tempts all the other people who saw him. This starts a chain reaction and pretty soon everyone is at the bottom of the steps, conglomerated into one big group. Everyone is having to fight for their position... the line when out of the blue come that group of people that consider it alright for them to cut line, the teachers! What are we supposed to do? Yank them to the back of the line or into Mr. Adams office. If teachers are complaining about cutters then why don't they practice what they preach.

Locker Lamentations

I'm locker number 00, I've got an inferiority complex because everyone is always slamming me. Sometimes there will be some considerate person who will gently close me. I wish that everyone would take more time to shut me with ease. It would cause less noise and confusion in the halls.

Another thing that bothers me is people who like to hug and kiss. They lean up against me and make me feel like a fool. I just have to sit there and watch them because I can't walk away like everyone else does. If you were me, WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

By KATHY BUCHANAN

I'm Stuck Up

When I was little, I was always taught to throw objects and materials, that were not any good, or were no longer any use, in a wastepaper can or a garbage can. Some people must not know this, or they wouldn't stick their big cobby hunks of gum under the desk tops.

After sitting at a desk for 15 minutes, you decide to change positions, you find that the top of your pants or hose are stuck to the top of the desk. It's really not very much fun to find, since its been in somebody else's mouth.

How about when you sit down in gum, and you can't get it off, unless you run find a piece of ice somewhere.

It's not much fun and it's not very sanitary, to find gum this way. It would be much easier and cleaner, if everyone would just wrap it up in a piece of paper, and walk to the wastepaper can and throw it away. Just think, one of these days you might be the one whose going to be stuck up!

Give Us Gravel!

According to reliable sources, Lone Oak High School, now has a playground. This playground is located behind the gym and is supposedly used for that purpose. Notice that I said supposedly. It is not being used simply for the fact that it is muddy most of the time. The other part of the time there is no one on it.

LOHS definitely has a parking problem. Yet we continue to let this unused space, which just happens to be adjacent to the parking lot, go for a playground. I have the opinion that when a person reaches his high school career, he doesn't need a playground. But, we do need more parking spaces.

If just a little money was used to gravel this area for a parking lot the parking problem would disappear. In order to progress, we must make progress.

By DAVID WITHERINGTON

Potty Perils

Boys may not know too much about this subject but girls will thoroughly understand. It's not unusual to go to the girls restroom and take your seat only to find, when it's needed, the toilet paper has been neglected.

In other words the paper roll is completely gone. There's not exactly a lot you can do about it except maybe scream for "paper please." Even if you do scream you probably won't get an answer, so naturally you're left with the alternative of sitting there until you get up the courage to remove yourself from your seat, doing this to soon may leave you uncomfortable for the rest of the day. This subject may sound trivial to some people but wait until it happens to you. You will be rubbed the wrong way.

Ding Dong, Student Calling

Stop high school peddling! Some people may say "the art of salesmanship is an education," but I for one am not going to school to learn the fine art of doorbell ringing. Every organization has its yearly, semi-annual, monthly or even full time sales campaigns. Everything from tickets for a plate of melted ice cream, or watery chili to "beautiful" plastic knick-knacks that NO home should be without.

Club advisors drive their members without relent, fellow students scorn their co-workers whose quota is down, all to buy something "wonderful" for the school which will be carted away by a thief or crushed under the thundering hooves of a class change in the downstairs hall.

Is it worth it? If you want to learn salesmanship take distributive education or a business course and really learn something about it. Should our time at school be used for collecting remittance on fund raising projects, when we should be preparing ourselves for the future, where very few of us will follow the training we received in high school and become Fuller Brush men or Avon ladies. I for one say no.

By BRUCE HAYDEN

Here's Spit In Your Eye

Nothing disgusts me more than to be walking around the school grounds or downtown sidewalks and suddenly finding my path blocked by a large glittering pool of spit (or saliva for the more delicate). The same goes for gum. I don't think I'll ever understand why people insist on booby-trapping the school grounds by dropping their sticky gum in strategic places where someone is likely to place his unfortunate foot. It's especially embarrassing in the fall when you walk into a class room with all these multi-colored leaves stuck to the wad of gum which is stuck to your shoe and you don't know about it. So whenever you want to get rid of gum you're through chomping on be kind to your fellow students and deposit the gum someplace where it belongs like a wastebasket or your pocket or something.

Now I ask you what is so "tuff" about spitting? If you have an excess of drool surely you can find someplace better to spit it than directly in the paths of unknowing students.

So my plea to the "tuff ones" is if you must spit why not go downtown to the plaza and pretend you're a fountain attachment and spit someplace besides where people walk.

New Hair Style Liked by Many

Has anyone noticed the different hair styles of women lately? Probably the most noticed style is called the "Shag." Many people have commented on their likes and dislikes and it seems most people seem to like the new hair style very much.

This style is said to have originated in Europe. The shag is not a new hair style. The style is only being repeated because it was popular many generations back.

The girls and women of America have adopted this hair style because they think it brings out their femininity. The curls and curves in this style brings out the softness in a woman's face. This style appeals to other people, especially men. Appealing to others is one of the greatest achievements that a woman can make.

★ UNDER THE ★ ★ SIGN OF... ★

ARIES ♈
In your present state, which is one of exuberant optimism it would be easy to make a false step. Exploit your good points to the full, but keep in mind two things: the future and the opinion of others. Along the 20th you will receive an invitation. Don't be hasty in accepting, it might be wise in the long run to pass this one up. Though the holiday season will have its happy moments, you must also look for delays, frustrations, and change in plans for during that period you may have problems.

TAURUS ♉
Personal relationships are in for some stormy weather, but most of the disagreements will turn out to be nothing. Outings and gift spending are going to cost you much more than you now think so try to be realistic. An envied friend is very favorably impressed by you, and you will receive tangible evidence of this at the end of the month. December is always oriented around the holidays, and for you this period will be harmonious, and very active socially. From the 18th to the 22nd you are in danger of an accident.

GEMINI ♊
Suddenly, you are motivated to reach out for culture, for intellectual challenges. Your active Gemini mind goes into high gear, and you seek new worlds to conquer. Try this month to finish what you start, and not give up at the first sign of difficulty. The holidays are this month's high point, and this year you should have a time of fun, harmony, nostalgia and a drawing together of those who have drifted apart. You may find yourself in unusual situations. Fun is one thing, but when it threatens your good name as well as your physical health decline firmly.

CANCER ♋
This month you should concentrate on one of your most pressing problems. Do you really want to follow a certain course or are you being talked into it? On another matter, try to keep your holiday spending within reasonable limits. One particular gift you are planning to splurge on is very unrealistic. A really big surprise is in store for the final days of the year, when someone out of the past will turn up. Just remember that past emotions can hardly ever be brought to the same degree of heat that they formerly attained.

LEO ♌
Your sign is pretty showy, so try to keep things under control. A plan for the holidays, which you consider so important is not going to work out due to the conduct of one individual, so be on the lookout for this. Especially at this time of year try to make amends by giving attention to a worthy individual, who you know thinks a lot of you. At the very end of the year try not to take sides when a violent disagreement breaks out. Let the others settle the matter without your interference.

VIRGO ♍
Signs indicate that social life is becoming increasingly important in your life. However there is some risk that you may become involved in a dispute between friends, and as a result, end up with more enemies than friends. Keep out of the line of fire. The last third of the month will see you involved in many activities, meeting many new people all the time. At times you feel as though you are not truly appreciated in a certain area, and there is truth in your suspicions. You will end the year in a very joyous mood.

LIBRA ♎
Socially things should hum along nicely and you will benefit from a powerful boost from an important person. Take full advantage of this good development. Responsibility will be on the increase and this may interfere with plans you have made. The holiday season will be full of activity and you may find it difficult to participate in all the events which you are invited to. Keep yourself under control the last part of the month to much partying and delicious liquids may have a disastrous result.

SCORPIO ♏
A close friend is now having difficulties and though you should not stay away, do not become very involved. You will approach the holiday season in a mood of expectation and you will be justified. Things will go about as you wish them, though one plan will have to be changed due to the indisposition of one person. Things may open to you in the final week of the month that you never dreamed possible, but please proceed with caution and do not extend your friendship to eagerly.

SAGITTARIUS ♐
A flamboyant kind of month where you will find it hard at times to keep up the pace. There has evidently grown up a coolness between you and one of your close friends. Don't be so quick to lay the blame on the other person. You will be meeting new people and it will be so easy to show off to gain attention. Don't do this. Your personality is good enough to stand on its own without the big act you sometimes put on to impress people. At year's end the truth about a certain individual will finally emerge and you will be one of the most surprised people around.

CAPRICORN ♑
You will have to face up to a big decision this month. This concerns the amount of responsibilities you are forced to carry. As you know, your share is unfair, and you should finally take a definite stand. Either make others take their share or you call it quits. During the holiday season you will meet many new

A new class has been added to the LOHS Industrial Art Department. This new class is The World of Construction. The World of Construction was started at Ohio State University and the University of Illinois. It was first tried out in the Cincinnati Public School System. Lone Oak is one of only four schools in Kentucky taking part in this new class.
The World of Construction is being sponsored at Lone Oak by Mr. Robert York, head of the Association of General Contractors in the Paducah-McCracken County Area, the Association of General Contractors paid Mr. Fusco's tuition and expenses this summer for a required summer workshop so that he would be able and qualified to reach the World of Construction at Lone Oak.
The students study and perform daily activities dealing with every phase of construction. The students are working in areas such as: buying real estate, surveying, soil testing, contracting, collective bargaining, earth moving, building, pouring foundations, forming structures, plumbing, electrical work and 97 other areas of construction.

The students are working on the corner of a house with actual materials at this time. Mr. Fusco thinks that this is a very worthwhile class and it will help these students out to study the construction industry, to gain employment, and on the consumer stand point of view.

Mrs. Austin's Door Tops Other Portals

Well, it was tinsel time again at Lone Oak as many students began to decorate their home room doors with visions of sugarplums (not to mention the $10 first prize) dancing in their heads. In most homerooms collections were taken up in order to fund the decorating and then it was a mad dash all the way in order to complete the doors before judging day. Although many people didn't know about the contest until a few days in advance most of the doors were completed before the judging, which was held on Dec. 10.

This year most of the themes for the decorations were traditional ones. Linda Houston, the art teacher at Ballard, served as judge. She chose Mrs. Austin's "White Angel" as the first place winner. Second place went to Mrs. Douglas's "Little Drummer Boy" while third place was held by Mrs. Spangler's "Nativity Scene."

Honorable mention went to the agriculture room with its rendering of the Christmas Mouse. The whole contest was sponsored by the student council.

What If ... Perfect Female Beta Club Honors Teacher

What if...

There was a place to park in the parking lot.

Judy Doyle got her hair cut. The students liked the paper. Flattops came back in style. Everybody in Journalism Class agreed on something.

Mr. Dexter threw a Christmas party for the whole school.

Teachers had to stand and wait in the lunch line.

We ever got to eat in the new cafeteria.

We had a white Christmas.

Mrs. Jones was fat.

Everyone got what they wanted for Christmas.

The freshman class only had 20 people in it.

Everybody cheered at pep rallies.

This town didn't roll up the streets at 6 p.m.

We didn't have a great band.

Kathy Buchanan was ever quiet for over one minute at a time.

Keith Tomes' car ever ran.

We were already out of school for the summer.

We could skip without getting caught.

They took away Mr. Adams' police car.

Anybody passed an Algebra II test.

The Chemistry Lab got blown up.

people, some with different backgrounds, and this is good. It will open your eyes to a new way of looking at things. You are to set in your ways and this should change.

AQUARIUS

A moody kind of month, some good moods and some bad. You will go swiftly from exuberance to depression for no apparent reason. This could cause you trouble with someone close. There is no easy solution to a family difficulty, so the best thing to do is learn to live with it, as it is not likely to change. Particularly try to keep your feelings about this problem under control during the holidays, if you keep quiet others will also.

PISCES

This month finds you burdened with obligations, some pleasant, some not. This will interfere with your holiday plans, though in general you will have a pretty good time. There are signs that a close person may be absent from the family gatherings and this may dampen your spirit. A friend's secret which you share should remain a secret. Telling someone will not help your relations with anyone. Be very careful when traveling and during the last week of the year.

Senior Citizens

For the Lone Oak High School Beta Club, senior Citizens Night is one of the main projects of the year. The Betas invited all the senior citizens (65 and over) in the community to the school cafeteria for a Christmas dinner and party. A speaker was heard and the Lone Oak Swing Choir sang. After that part of the program, Santa made a grand appearance with gifts for all.

The club worked hard on this project individually as well as a group. There were many committees such as the decorating committee, the food committee, the clean-up committee, and the gift committee. Everyone in the club was on the gift committee. Each person was responsible for gifts. They collected contributions from the merchants in Lone Oak and Paducah. All the work was rewarded, though, when on Senior Citizen's night smiles lighted the faces of the people that are sometimes forgotten and lonely.

Carriage House Players Perform Antigone, MacBeth

On Nov. 22, the Carriage House Players returned to Lone Oak High School. They presented two plays: MacBeth and Antigone.

MacBeth was a very dramatic play and everyone enjoyed it. On the other hand, the version of Antigone presented was a 1943 revision of the original. Antigone was drama, comedy, and suspense all rolled into one. Everyone seemed to enjoy these plays and we are all looking forward to having the Carriage House Players back again next year.

The English Department was responsible for bringing the Carriage House Players back to Lone Oak. All proceeds went to the English Department to buy new materials for the English classes.

Upon a visit to Santa's house, He was no where to be found. We asked Mrs. Clause where he might be, She said, "He's out caddin' around."

We asked then if we might wait, To talk to Santa Claus. She said, "Of course, he may be late, Even though he has no cause."

Sitting by the fire, all cozy and warm, Eating cookies and milk, Santa appeared on the scene, In a suit made of red silk.

We were all very startled. To see him dressed this way. He had shaved his beard and cut his hair, And also lost some weight.

Without his beard and stomach, He looked like a different guy. Just like a kid of this day and time, It made us begin to cry.

We knew we had lost our Santa, The one we loved so dear. But the new Santa that we now have, Is not as fat and queer.

In spite of the way he looked, We pulled out our long list, We began to tell him why he came, Then told him everyone's wish.

David Witherington, Editor-in-Chief, Only wants his two front teef. Assistant to David, Bruce Hayden, Wants to meet up with a beautiful maiden.

Business manager, Debbie Johnson, Wants a toy to provide lots of fun. Nancy Newman, assistant business manager, Hopes for something to please Bobby and her!

Jane Gillen, head of advertising, Wants lots of goodies upon arising. Assistant to Jan, Robert Pierce, Can't wait to see Santa and his eight reindeer.

Pickens, Michelle Qualls, Julia Reynolds, Marlis Ringe, Martha Richie, Kathy Runge, Ruth Vandry, Jean Vick, Karen Wilkens, Cindi Wilson, Vickie Wilson, and Diane Winstead.

Exchange editor, Jill Clark, Wishes she wasn't afraid of the dark. Exchange secretary, Linda Huff, Wants a "buddy" that's enough.

Feature editor, Jane Ann Morris, Wants Santa to bring her a rocking horse. David Edwards, editor of sports, Wants trucks and toys of many sorts.

Assistant editor of sports, Dwayne King, Only wishes that he could sing.

The three copy editors want a lot, First, Donna Trout wants a dolly and all that rot.

Robin Eastwood wants a pair of pants that are really hot. Karen Walden has something else in mind.

She's going to Chicago to see what she can find.

Mike Summers, editor of Art, Is hoping to win over some girl's heart.

Scot Woodard, our picture taker, Wants for Christmas, a snow cone maker.

The three people on layout have made a long list, Like Kathy Buchanan, she hopes to be kissed.

Randal Neihoff doesn't wish that at all,

He only wishes he wasn't so tall. Dickie McNeil as you will see, Has found his girl, so that's all he needs.

The circulation department is really quite small, And they don't really want very much at all.

Linda Austin, the only girl, Wants a baton that she can twirl. Danny Reed says it's quite simple, He wants to get rid of his cute little dimple.

Clyde McSparrin, last but not least, Wants something to fight with, perferably a beast.

So there you have it, And now we must leave. But please Santa, bring us our gifts, On this Christmas Eve.

Flash Symbol Painted By Summers, Woodard

For a long time Mr. Dexter has secretly wished for some sort of symbol for the Lone Oak purple Flash. He wanted it in the gym so people at all school activities, especially basketball, would be aware of its presence. He presented his idea to Mrs. Jan Floyd, art teacher at Lone Oak. She in turn, presented it to two of her senior art students, Scot Woodard and Mike Summers. They worked with many ideas and came up with the design that is now on the gym wall.

It was a lot of hard work getting started; getting paint mixed, obtaining a scaffold from the Board of Education, climbing up and down the scaffold, and answering the millions of questions from bystanders. They worked every day possible for two hours and all day one Saturday. It was finally completed.

Another word to the curious-at-heart, the three things extending from the border of the circle that look like purple posicle sticks are there just for decoration. These guys have worked hard on their project and come out with something that the whole school and community will be glad to have hanging on the walls of Lone Oak High School for years to come, hopefully they will enjoy its presence.

Great gift idea.

Give something different. Tasty. Hot. Tender. A special sauce. Cheese. Lettuce. McDonald's Filet O' Fish Sandwich. Wrapped free.
