Six Aim For School Board Positions

By Jeff Abell

Leonard Elrod, Jerald Ellington, Larry Williams, Jerry Shemwell, Sharon Henneke, and Harry Coovert are the six candidates who are vying for election to the McCracken County Board of Education. The six are running in their respective districts in which they reside.

The two candidates in District Two are Leonard Elrod and Jerald Ellington. Mr. Ellington's prior experience includes teaching on both the Junior and Senior High School levels. He formerly served as the assistant principal at Paducah Tilghman High School and as director of the West McCracken County Easter Seal Center. He feels that both his educational experience and his background make him qualified for the position. If elected, Mr. Ellington said that he would visit the schools on a regular basis in order to get a good understanding of the people in the schools. He feels the students should have representation and a more active voice in the actions of the board. Mr. Ellington would push for basic education. He stated that when students graduate, they should be able to read comprehensively, know basic mathematics, and be able to express themselves both verbally and in writing.

Mr. Leonard Elrod has served eight years as a member of the school board and has been chairman for the past three years. He is the past chairman of the Kentucky School Board Association of the First Region. He is also a member of the board of directors for the Kentucky School Board Association. He is employed by Guy Gray Supply Company. Mr. Elrod was prompted to run for a third term because, as a member of the board, he would like to see a continuation of some of the different school programs already initiated. He added that he would like to see the energy conservation program finished and the renovation of the older schools in the county finalized. As a personal goal, Mr. Elrod stated that he would like to continue having a good community relationship and involvement.

The candidates in District Four are Larry Williams and Jerry Shemwell. Mr. Williams has lived in McCracken County for 34 years and is employed by the 3M Company in Paducah. He has two children enrolled in the McCracken County Schools. Mr. Williams has had training with people and their problems and he stated that a good board member needs basic common sense. He would like to see the building program continued and for all McCracken County Schools to be air conditioned. He added that a greater emphasis should be placed on the basic learning skills. Mr. Williams is knowledgeable on the duties and responsibilities of board members and how the board functions as a whole.

The other candidate in District Four is Jerry Shemwell. Mr. Shemwell is employed by Illinois Central Gulf Railroad and has one child in the McCracken County Schools. He has lived in the McCracken County School District for about 6 years. Among his qualifications include two years of college, two years of service in the armed forces, and about 5 years in vocational education. Mr. Shemwell stated that he has a genuine concern for children and feels the curriculum of the McCracken County Schools should be expanded and improved. When asked about the responsibility a board member should have, Shemwell said, "I feel the board members should be responsive to the people's needs and in tune and in touch with the system."

There are two candidates in District Five, Harry Coovert and Sharon Henneke. Mr. Coovert is employed at A & P Grocery as head stock supervisor. He has served eight years on the board of education and has lived in McCracken County all his life. He said that to create a wholesome atmosphere, all schools should be air conditioned. Mr. Coovert said he would like to see an enrichment program created, such as for the gifted student and added that he currently feels good about our educational program. Coovert's personal goal is for McCracken County to have the top educational program around.

Sharon Henneke is self-employed and has one child in McCracken County Schools. She has attained her masters degree and was previously a school teacher. She said she was prompted by friends and other people in the community to run for a position on the board. She feels the curriculum in the schools should be strengthened because it presently is not geared for children to go to college. She added that stronger discipline, stronger guidance, and a firmer drug policy should be implemented and also added that she would like to see a program created for the gifted children.

Consider The Facts

By Donna Groves

When one works hard and steady, he makes progress. Progress shows how deeply one honors his commitments and how motivated one is to a particular cause. President Jimmy Carter's cause is America and its future. The amount of progress he has made as President is evident when we look at some of his accomplishments.

President Carter has increased our nation's commitment to a strong national defense every year he has been in office. He has also strengthened our ties with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Allies and renewed our alliance with friendly Asian countries.

The President took strong steps following the invasion of Afghanistan by the Soviet Union. He curbed the sale of grain and the transfer of technology to Russia. He renewed draft registration and led the free world in boycotting the Moscow Olympics.

President Carter has appointed more women to his Cabinet than all previous presidents combined. Of his top-level appointees, 23% are women. President Carter has also nearly doubled the resources put into enforcement of civil rights laws. More Black Americans now have jobs than at any other time in our history.

He has increased federal support for education by 70%. Funding for Kentucky's elementary and secondary education programs will surpass $190 million this year. More than a half-million school lunches are provided daily to Kentucky students. Support to the eight universities in the state totals over $58 million this year.

The statistics also show the progress President Carter has made. He created 8½ million new jobs in our economy—a greater increase than in any comparable period in American history. Gasoline consumption in the first half of 1980 was down 12%. America is importing 1½ million barrels a day less of foreign oil than we were three years ago.

After examining President Carter's record, I feel he has earned a second term as President of the United States. I also believe America deserves the leadership of such a man as President Jimmy Carter.

Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition

By Robert Tracy

National defense has always been one of the United States' strongpoints. It is clear to me, however, that America is at a serious, even dangerous, crossroads in our history. The Soviet military invasion of Afghanistan is the latest example of how the Russians are doing everything in their power to cut oil lines to the west, and gain even greater superiority over the United States.

Unless we make some changes in the direction of our national defense and foreign policies, I believe the U.S. is heading towards a massive crisis in the 1980's that will affect you, your family, and every person in this country. Despite overwhelming evidence of a huge Russian military arms build-up, the pro-disarmament Democratic majority in the U.S. Senate and the obviously blind Carter Administration have made major cutbacks for three critical years in our country's national defense system. What alarms me is that every one of these cutbacks was made without obtaining a single military concession from the Soviet Union.

For years the disarmament Democrats in the U.S. Senate have told us that if we would just slow down our weapons development, the Russians would follow suit. Well, they haven't. Yet while these same senators have cancelled or slowed down major weapons systems, such as the B-1 strategic bomber, the MX missile system, and the Trident missile submarine, the Russians continue to expand their offensive weapons arsenal at the fastest rate in their history.

Thanks to the Democrats' irresponsible and reckless policies, the U.S. now faces a "period of vulnerability" between 1982 and 1986 that gives the Soviets the ability to launch a nuclear "first strike" and knock out 90% of our landbased ICBM missile force.

The U.S. has failed to counter the Soviets' successful strategy of using client states like Cuba to export revolution throughout the Third World. The Marxist takeover of Angola, Mozambique, Afghanistan, and South Yemen is dramatic proof of what I mean.

The Russians are working night and day to gain control of the oil and shipping lanes in the Persian Gulf, which are absolutely vital to America, Europe, and Japan. Their invasion of Afghanistan is only one step in this dangerous drive. It is quite clear to me that any long term interruption of the daily flow of oil to the West would produce an immediate economic and political disaster for us and would, in effect, give the Soviets a major, perhaps decisive, international victory.

The crisis we face today is a direct result of the policies of the liberal Democrats who have dominated the Senate for twenty five years. I do not question the personal motives of these men. I believe they are sincere. But I do question their judgment of the exact nature of the Soviet challenge. What happens if the Russians create and exploit one crisis after another in the Persian Gulf to gain eventual control of our oil supplies? Our national defense and foreign policy must change if we are to survive as a free and independent nation in the 1980's.

Whether we redress the military balance of power or allow the Soviets to maintain their military superiority over our country will be determined largely by the outcome of the November election. To sum it all up I must say "vote for the Reagan of your choice, but vote for Reagan."

OAK LEAVES Sales Begin

OAK LEAVES plans are progressing according to schedule, according to advisor Janice Foster. "The highlight of the yearbook seems to be the senior section in color and the superlatives section in color," she added.

Tammy Stonecipher and Debbie O'Daniel, co-editors, explained, "The senior class group picture was in keeping with the theme, 'We've Only Just Begun'." Also, special plans are being made for the honor section and homecoming sections, according to Robin Webb and Suzie Wilkins, chairpersons of those sections.

Class editors Lori Turner, Penny Ezell, Debbie Neuner, and Savona Gilbert are designing unique lay outs for their class division pages and class sections.

The idea for the cover was conceived by the annual staff class with some technical art help from staff member Sharon Earhart and guest artist Kim Austin.

Terri Bobo, Tammy Waggoner, and Kim Tidwell, sales chairpersons, announce a special prize for those who purchase yearbooks this year.

those who purchase yearbooks this year.

"People who pay for their yearbook the first day of the sales campaign will be eligible to be in a drawing to win a 1981 Mustang," they emphasized.

"Yearbooks may be ordered only during the sales campaign of Nov. 6-Nov. 13. After that date, no more orders will be taken as the number of yearbooks ordered must be turned in to the publishing company," the sales chairpersons added.

Because of the contest a large volume of yearbooks is expected to be ordered the first day. To accommodate this expected large number, yearbooks may be purchased in homerooms and between 11:00-12:30 in Mrs. Foster's room, D101, on Nov. 6 only. After the first day, yearbooks may be purchased only in homerooms through Nov. 13.

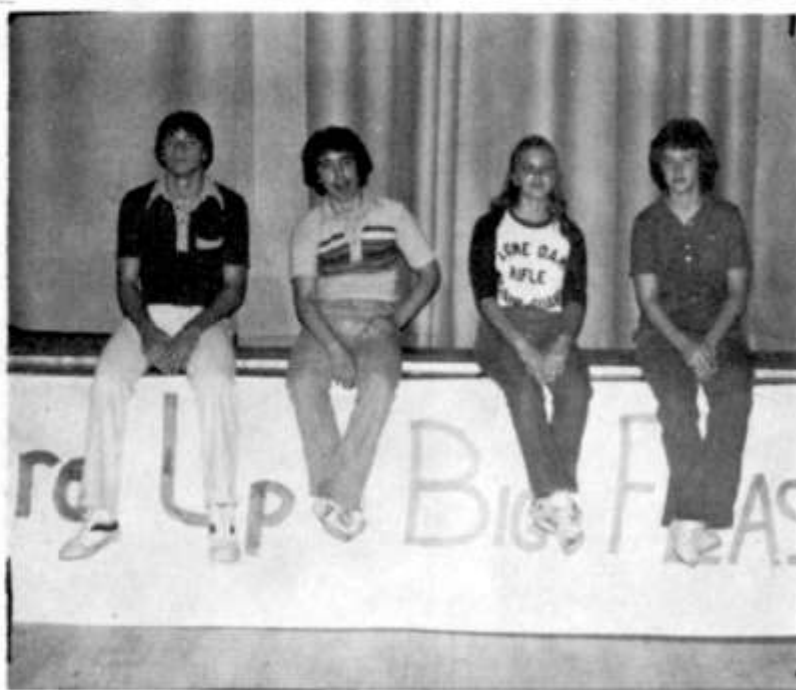

A Picture Is Worth 1,000 Words

By Todd Myrick

Photographs in a school newspaper express a feeling that cannot be put into words. They may express this feeling alone, or they may be used to compliment a written story.

Most people see an interesting photograph and will look for a story to explain it. In this way a good photo sells a story that might not have been noticed otherwise.

Photographers try to catch you in a natural state, not a posed position. A photo is twice as good when the subject acts perfectly natural and ignores the photographer completely. A picture should show the way you are, not show a public face you put on. If this can be achieved, then a real picture comes through.

Senior profile students are Clifford Clark, Brad Luigs, Debbie Neuner, and Tonis Barkley.

David Read, a member of the Kentucky Colonel Band, was recently selected to play in the McDonald's All American Band at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City.

The McDonald's Corporation selected two outstanding band members from each state and Washington D.C., plus one from the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

Designer Jeans: Status, Style, and...Money!!!

By Susan Darnell

Jordache, Calvin Klein, Pierre Cardin, Gloria Vanderbilt, Diane Von Furstenberg. These are only a few names which make up a booming market—the designer jeans industry. But why are they such a success?

Is it prestige that people seek? Status? Probably a little (or a lot) of both? After all, who doesn't want to look stylish or have the "in" clothes. And since the designer jeans retail for an average of thirty-five dollars a pair, buying a pair shows that you have a generous amount of money to spend on casual wear!

Advertising may also have a lot to do with this million dollar business. The flamboyant, voluptuous models in the ads tease the consumers into buying the jeans. Because, in a sense, the buyer buys them thinking that he or she will look just as desirable wearing the jeans as the models do. This is why almost all the jeans' advertising is based on a fantasy or fantasy figure. Many of the commercials have to be censored before the networks will run them and several magazines and newspapers won't even print their sexy, seductive ads.

Now other companies have realized that "designer denims" are a big success and they have started copying them. So the originals are diversifying into other lines.

Still some competitive apparel companies say that it's a waste putting a designer's name on every pocket because once everyone has a pair, there will be no demand. But, by the looks of five hundred million dollar annual sales of such companies as Jordache and Klein, we see who has the right idea!!

One of the biggest things to hit the fashion parade lately is "baggies". Seen in denim, corduroy, knit, or wool, baggies have become quite a fad.

Lately, a lot of crew neck Shetland sweaters with lace collars and monograms are being seen. Actually, any kind of sweater, whether it be bulky, slightly tight, crew neck, v-neck, cowl neck or turtle neck, is suitable for any chilly outdoor activities to keep you warm.

Any type of wool skirt will pass as stylish. Several pleated wool skirts with plaids are being worn with soft silky blouses accented with ties that are large and "showy" or just small and simple. Blazers of any kind go great with the skirts, or pants for matter.

Cowgirls have really ridden into the fashion scene. Western wear is tops with boots, hats, western cut jeans, and denim skirts.

Oakers Drop Two Straight

Marshall County

Fresh from a 20-0 defeat at the hands of Crittenden County, the Purple Flash dropped their second game in a row when the Marshall County Marshals defeated the Oakers, 35-15, at Marshall County.

Lone Oak scored twice in the game, their first tally coming in the second quarter when junior quarterback Shane Jones ran seven yards for a touchdown. Jones then switched roles from quarterback to kicker and split the uprights for the extra point.

The Oakers' next points came in the fourth quarter when junior Greg Raney broke through the line on an option play and dashed 69 yards to score. Senior Steve Key followed up the touchdown with a two-point conversion for Lone Oak's final points of the evening.

Reidland

Lone Oak's hopes for a county championship were dashed by a 9-0 defeat by the Reidland Greyhounds on the Greyhounds' home ground.

Lone Oak's hard-hitting defensive secondary excelled throughout the game. Though Reidland gained 224 yards rushing, their passing game was completely halted by the Oakers' secondary.

The Flashes' offense was a different story. Their ground game was stopped by a tough Greyhound defense during the first half. Forced to go to the air, junior quarterback Shane Jones tossed 16 passes during the second half for a total of 40 yards passing.

Oakers Stun Trojans

By Bob Keown

The Lone Oak Purple Flash, fresh from a 15-0 shutout of the Webster County Trojans, defeated the Metropolis Trojans, 14-0, on the Flashes' home field. The Flashes' victory spoiled the Metropolis Trojan's play-off hopes.

In the game Lone Oak, 3-6, rolled up 207 yards while handing Metropolis its second defeat of the year.

The scoring started when junior quarterback Shane Jones ran the ball in from the eight-yard line. Jones then threw to sophomore Scott Elkins for the two-point conversion. The score at halftime stood at 8-0, Lone Oak's favor.

Lone Oak put up some much needed insurance points in the fourth quarter when senior Steve Key ran the ball in from the 15-yard line. The extra point attempt failed.

Key was the leading rusher, gaining 126 yards in 20 carries, while senior back Mike Hartig rushed for 32 yards on 9 carries. Jones went to the air three times, completing one to junior Greg Raney for 13 yards.

Tomorrow night, Lone Oak will face district leader Union County, 7-2, at Morgan field. Lone Oak is 2-2 in district play, while Union County is 4-0.

Lone Oak Trounces Webster County

By Andy Elbon

Led to victory by outstanding performances by the offensive line and senior backs Steve Key and Mike Hartig, the Lone Oak Purple Flash defeated the Webster County Trojans, 15-0. The game was played at Flash field.

"The offensive line looked much better than it did against Heath," said Coach Tom Pandolfi. "The line's point total was the highest it has been all year."

All of Lone Oak's scoring came in the first half. Their first tally was a touchdown early in the first quarter. After senior Mike Hartig returned the opening kickoff 20 yards to the Flashes' 40 yard line, Lone Oak marched down to Webster's two-yard line, where senior back Steve Key dove in for the score. Key was the game's leading rusher with 97 yards on 32 carries.

With six minutes remaining in the first quarter, junior Brian Stevens recovered a fumble coughed up by the Webster County offense on only their second play from scrimmage. The Lone Oak offense once again worked the ball down into Trojan territory to the one-yard line. Mike Hartig then carried the ball in from the one for the score. The following two-point conversion attempt failed.

Lone Oak's final points came with three minutes left in the first half when junior Shane Jones booted a field goal from 18 yards out.

While the offense turned in one of their best performances of the year, the Flashes' defense did more than held their own. In the waning seconds of the third quarter, Webster County completed a 90-yard pass play that landed them on Lone Oak's five-yard line. The Oakers' defensive line withheld four Trojan scoring attempts, and Webster County failed to score.

Brian Stevens and Mike Hartig had fumble recoveries for Lone Oak, and Hartig and Steve Key had one interception each.

Pirates Shutout Flash

By Roger Estes

Lone Oak dropped a 27-0 decision to the Heath Pirates Friday night that gave the Pirates the County Championship.

Despite the score, the statistics in this game were quite even. Both Heath and Lone Oak had seven first-downs. Flash quarterback Shane Jones threw seven completions for seventy-nine yards, but he also threw two interceptions that gave Heath two of its touchdowns. As Lone Oak dominated the pass, Heath out ran the Flashes for 138 yards to Lone Oak's 9 yards.

The crucial factor of the game was turnovers. Besides the two interceptions Lone Oak also gave up the ball on two fumbles. Heath quickly turned them both into touchdowns.

This game did hold one bright spot for Lone Oak. Sophomore Kevin Wheatley caught 3 passes for 57 yards.
