By Michelle Roberts

Lone Oak High School can be proud this year with three valedictorians and one salutatorian. The valedictorians are Dan McDermott, Kevin Toon, and Stephen Borders, and the salutatorian is Kim Burnett.

Dan McDermott has a GPA of 4.0 and is going into the Pre-Dental program at Murray State University. He plans to continue his education at the University of Louisville Dental school to become a dentist.

Stephen Borders has a GPA of 4.0 and is planning to attend Transylvania University. He wants to graduate with a physics major and math minor. Afterwards he will attend medical school and either become a practicing physician or medical researcher.

Kevin Toon also has a GPA of 4.0 and is going to attend Murray State University in Pre-Med. After graduating he wants to attend the University of Louisville

Project Graduation heads for success

By Melinda Furvis

For the past three years, Lone Oak has held Project Graduation for its seniors. In the past this has been a tremendous success. The 1990 Project Graduation promises to be just as exciting. The expected turnout for this year is between 350-400 people. 154 people have signed up with guests.

There will be plenty of events for students to choose from. There is a casino, dance, movies, the Best Friends Game, the Dating Game, and Gym Games. Gym Games include volleyball, basketball, and ping-pong. Students can compete for door prizes, cash giveaways, gift certificates, free dinners, etc.

Mr. Toy has been in charge of Project Graduation since it was started. When asked how this year's Project Graduation differs from last year's, he replied, "Basically, we'll have different activities due to an everchanging group of kids, but for the most part, it'll be similar to the Project Graduations in the past."

Project Graduation is going to be held Friday, May 18 from 11 p.m. - 5 a.m.

Senior Spotlight

Patricia Jones

by Jim Kerins

For the month of April, Patricia Jones has been selected as Junior Rotarian. A senior is chosen as junior rotarian because of their sound academic career and out of school activities.

Patricia is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has been a member of the varsity softball and basketball for three years. She also attends Lone Oak Church of Christ.

Patricia plans on attending Shawnee College and majoring in education.

Patricia sees herself in ten years as an elementary school teacher and married.

"I feel very honored and privileged to be chosen," comments Patricia.

Patricia Jones

Aimee Bahr

by Jim Kerins

During the month of May, Aimee Bahr will represent Lone Oak as Junior Rotarian.

Aimee was selected as one of the nine Junior Rotarians for the 1989-90 school year. Junior Rotarians are chosen for their academic excellence and involvement with extra-curricular activities.

Aimee is the current president of Tri-Hi-Y and is a member of Students Against Driving Drunk.

Aimee also attends St. John's Parish church and is involved with various church activities.

Aimee plans to attend Southeast Missouri State University and major in secondary education. Aimee hopefully sees herself in twenty years as graduated from college and teaching spanish.

"I feel privileged to have been selected to participate," comments Aimee.

A Farewell to Friends

You came just four years ago,
Like pilgrims into a new land.

You greeted each of us in turn,
Offering a gentle and loving hand.

You have helped us through finals,
And to survive our worst trials.

And now it seems so unlikely,
But you are ending this final mile.

It is now time for you to leave us,
We hope and pray your lives go well,
To the Lone Oak seniors, we love you,
And to close friends, a fond farewell.

Search for a Million

by Sharon Gordon

"Very few people realize what a million is," stated Coach Mike Clark, so around Christmas time he started collecting popcorn from students in his class. Every student was supposed to bring 10,500 kernels of popcorn, which would equal 1,000,000 kernels. Only 940,000 kernels have been collected since a few people didn't bring their share. In answer to what he will do with the popcorn he has collected, Coach Clark replied, "If we could get it all within the next week, we would borrow Mr. Woods' popcorn popper and feed the school popcorn."

Softball team has high hopes

By Heather Williams

This year our softball team is in high hopes that this season will go just as well as last year's did. The 1988-89 softball season was definitely a tremendous success. It helped having nine seniors on the team. After winning the district, the girls were feeling good about the possibility of winning the regionals. Through hard work and luck, they won.

We have another strong team this year. There are fifteen hard-working girls--four seniors, five Juniors, four sophomores, and two freshman. The team players and their positions are seniors: Donna Brookshire, short stop; Johnna Wheatly, second base; Patricia Jones, pitcher; and

This year the girls did not play as many games as they would have liked. Many were rained out, and they will probably not be able to make them up. The games ended May 4 and the district lasts from May 7-12. The regionals will be held on May 14-19.

BASEBALL TEAM GEARS UP FOR TOURNAMENT PLAY

by: Robert Weber

Even though the District Tournament is yet to be played, the Lone Oak baseball season is coming to an end. The season was filled with ups and downs for Flash Baseball.

The year started out bumpy for the Varsity Squad, but a week or so into the season, it seemed the team was coming together and for a couple of weeks played good ball. But then, somebody threw the brakes and the Flash hit a five game skid. Included in the slump were two losses in a tournament in Dyersburg, TN. Finally though, after what seemed like eternity to team members, they exploded out of the losing streak with a 14-4 romp over St. Mary.

Regardless of the struggling win-loss record, Lone Oak had several high points during the season. One of which was their defeat of Tilghman by a score of 7-4. Brian Green pitched the win and Lone Oak's defense sparkled. Another highlight was a split of a doubleheader with Kentucky powerhouse Henderson Co. The first game of the twin bill was won by the Flash with Jay King getting the win and Preston Snelling the save.

While the Varsity Squad gets the most attention, the JV team is just as important. Lone Oak is fortunate to have strong young ballplayers who fine tune their skills by playing JV ball. They then are ready to come up and help the Varsity. This is very true this year. The 1990 JV ballclub has had a very successful year and the future looks good for the Varsity program.

The Varsity still has the District and hopefully Regional Tournaments to go. They have high hopes of going into these tournaments with good momentum and hopefully show to other area teams that they are just as good as past Lone Oak ballclubs.

FLIGHT CAMP TAKES OFF THIS SUMMER

By Sarah Williamson

Flight-Tech Incorporated of Barkley Field Airport of Paducah is having a mini-flight camp. This is for students ages 15 and older who are interested in professional aviation or flying as a hobby. The camp will be held from June 4-8 and June 11-15, 8:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M. The fee is $372. A practice written test for a private pilot's license will be administered at the end of the camp. Tours of the airport services will be given, and there will be a brief education on the general knowledge of aviation.

TRACK TEAM WINDS DOWN SEASON

By Todd Walker

The Lone Oak High School track team is winding down its season. Both the girls' and boys' track team have done rather well this year and have good prospects for next year. Both the girls and boys won two out their three meets this season. Some of the outstanding team members that helped win these meets are Rhonda Joe Reid in the high jump, Jack Meece in the 800 meter run, Pierre Middleton in the 400 meter run, Greg Shelton in the 100 meter run, Chris Brandon in the high jump, Shannon Wallis and Amy Kilpatrick in the 1600 meter run, Jenny Stephon in the 100 meter run, and Donna Brookshire and Letonia Jones in the 1600 meter relay. Coach McGroarty feels that next year's team will be even better with new and returning members such as Patrick Hook, Amy Kilpatrick, Pierre Middleton, Greg Shelton, Jack Meece, and Chris Brandon.

Amy Haskins signs with Western Kentucky University. Amy will be playing tennis with older sister this fall. Photo by Robert Wagner

HOLIFIELD TOP GIRLS' GOLFER

By Tim Black

The Lone Oak High School golf team are almost yet another season in 1990. Coach Pope and his teams are and have been excited about this season. Both the boys and girls golf teams teed off their season April 9th with a home match against Heath. The match was played at Rolling Hills Country Club, as are all of their home matches, and proved to be a success. Julie Holifield, a veteran of Lone Oak Golf, had the top score for the girls' team. To determine the winner of an entire match, the top four scores from each the boys and the girls teams have their scores totaled.

The boys' golf team won their first match against Heath (201-219). At present their record is 3 wins and 5 losses. Jeff James, Tripp Duperrieu, and Brian Austin were consistent in being top scorers.

The girls' golf team's record is presently 5 wins and 2 losses. Among their victims include Heath, Ballard, and Fulton City. Julie Holifield, Melissa Korte, Staci Sanderson, and Amy Kaufman were some constant top scorers.

Senior Wills

I, _____, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath to ...

Angie Acord, my sunglasses to Lori Hayes. A new jacket to Michael Powell. My locker to Jennifer Burnette, all the fun times in lunch to Marci Lech, Angie Ames, and Cindy Hooker.

Tim Adams, my ability to roam the halls sixth hour to Paul Grimm because he already does it anyway. I also leave all the gum, candy, and blow pops in my basketball locker to Brian Mudd.

Heather Alexander, my close relationship with all faculty and staff to Krista Gronefield and all the great times I had outside of school (which I needn't elaborate on) to my little sisters, Christy Alderson and Holly Riggs.

Paula Atherton, my position as Drum Major of the band to anyone who can find that fine line between being a push-over and a royal pain, my chair in band to Stefanie Espie, and all of my memories to no one, I shall always cherish them.

Aimee Bahr, Jenni LeGrand my ability to drive a stick shift and my parking spot. To Beth "George" Swearingen, I leave all my unorganized Tri-Hi-Y papers.

Holly Baker, my ability to graduate without failing a year and all my partying school nights to Russi Johnson. My ability to barely get up for school and all my skipping days to Bonnie Miller, Shonna Brewer, and Molly Williams.

James G. Banks, all the underclassmen in Mr. Wells' 3rd hour World Civilization class a lifetime supply of bubble gum and candy, because I won't be here for them to bum off of me anymore, especially Shane.

Keith Barkley, my position on the football team to anyone man enough to take it and to Matt Lovelace, my position on the baseball team that he wants so badly.

Christy Blackburn, to Ellen Sweatt, my expert lab abilities in Chemistry, to my sister and her friends, mine and Heather's skipping ability and the love the faculty and staff have for us, to the lunch lady, ONLY 3 KETCHUPS!!

Stephen Borders, my desire to get every ball on the tennis court to Chad Seabaugh, he needs it; my grades to my sister, Laura; and my disorganization to Lori Spear.

Ann Bracey, my bottom locker to Terri Wilkers, my notes in Mr. Sensing's chemistry class to Casey Walker; my place on the prom committee to Stacey Hudson, and my seat in Choir to Kay Via.

Eddie Bromley, to my sister, my snobbishness; Terry B. and Chris B., my mowing (it was always yours anyway); Charity, my abstract wisdom; Chris H., my ability to be a revolutionary; Greg Shelton, my home ec. skills, Mr. Toy a juicy burger and my place in the N.R.A. To Mr. Pope, dancing lessons; Angella my love, and the rest of you the ability to save the world and pride in your country.

Donna Brookshire, my position as short-stop to Shannon Wallis and also my position at point guard. I want to hand down to her my #12 jersey so she will no longer have to wear #10.

Eric Brown, anything and everything a person might want of mine to my sister, Tiffany. Hopefully, she can do better in all areas than I have at L.O.H.S.

Jason Brown, both my brain cells to Tony Wells.

Kim Burnett, Lori Spear, my position as Beta Club President; Rob and Clay Wagner, loads of fun at the Beta Club Convention, and Ellen Sweat and Garland Crawford many more hours of fun at The Parlor.

Jaimee Burchard, to Jason, some good luck since you have none. Gee, hope your car starts next year, be sure and get gas! To Neil, I leave my ability to slam to a "Delco" system.

Chris Burkhardt, my wit to Rob Davis; my tormenting ways to Jay Tabscott; my respect to Mr. Toy.

Darrell Byrd, my locker to my friend, Jennifer Burnett, and my key to the basketball locker room washroom to my friend, Tony Thompson.

Paul Cartee, two more long years at this school to my girlfriend, Ellen (try to make them fun), and my popular, semi-front row parking spot to all who have parked there this year anyway.

David Cecil, my presence of body and absence of mind policy to Kori Cooper, and my "belting" powers to Urat Kejzler, Joey Krimple, and David Witte.

Dan Clark, the ability to chill to Bret Morris, and my job at Super Value to anyone who wants it.

Stacie Clark, my "job" as section leader to Elizabeth Palmer, my parking space, #169, to Stefanie Espie. I will my ability to skip band without being caught (well, almost!) to Brian Clark, Todd Rushing, and Cassie Mason.

Michelle Coley, my locker, #01, to Chris Gish, my sister's lovely boyfriend, may you keep it as jammed as I. I will my parking space, #292, to Suzanne Coley. I hope you have the same problem finding it.

Mishelle Collins, my ability to be late to first hour and the best times of my senior year to Monica Tinsley, my ability to wreck cars to Jeff James and to Donovan Sullivan and Neil Pierce my "Pillow."

Cheryl Condary, Kori Cooper my ability to drive 60 down Lone Oak Road at 7:43 a.m., Tiffany Brown, the picture album she's always asking me to see, and Scott Caron, all my unfinished Spanish III homework.

Angie Connes, Krystal Cox, the ability to not come to school and still pass. Christine Smith, the ability to stay up all night and still function in the mornings.

Michael Crawford, my two varsity football letters to Garland and my ability to have a messy locker to any of you neat locker people. Last, my privilege to get to class late to any freshman I see running to class.

Jason Crivello, my physiology cat "Daisy" to any animal rights activist who thinks it's wrong to dissect animals. And David Cecil's and my "good humor" to anybody who has 4th hour study hall.

Tammy Crump, my seat in physics class to anyone that went temporarily insane and actually signed up for the class and I will good luck to next year's AP calculus class because they'll need it.

Baron Daniels, my "late late" nights with MM to the few who can handle it; all my duffs to Brian and Jeff, and all my fishing lies to Shane Walraven.

Callie Davis, My ability to never be in 1st hour to Molly Williams, and to never get caught smoking to Russie and Shonna, and my ability to try and get out of L.O.H.S. to all the juniors.

Cindy Darnell, my midnight lab write ups to anyone with the middle name "procrastinate" and my "push up" excuses to Coach's next victim.

Johnna DeBow, my driving ability to Millie Lynn. Ha! Ha! I leave Jennifer Burnett my position as president of sorority. "Good Luck!" and to Monica Tinsley all the great times I had during these past four years.

Lori Doughty, my locker, #53, to Jason Box. I leave my seat in Mr. Sensing's chemistry class and in Mr. Baker's world civ. class to my brother Robbie, hoping he'll make the good grades I did.

Vicky Downs, Tammi Hudson, my best friend, all my classes including lunch. I also leave you Daniel's and my locker. I will Bobbie Downs my books to do what you wish. Good luck and have fun.

Tripp DuPerrieu, my locker, #61, to anyone who wishes to clean out Christy's and Holly's junk. My school record of broken golf clubs, (8,) to Jeffrie. To the football team I leave all the great memories and the greatest of wishes, to go 11-0.

Holly Earhart, my driving abilities to Craig Barrett, a few selected heavy metal tapes to the "Bayou Boys," and to Cindy Hooker, my beloved advanced math seat (just don't get caught doing anything that contradicts the Code of Conduct).

Laura Ernstberger, to Sarah R., my driving skills (I don't use them anyway!). To Tara L., the ability to stand up to those mean ol' seniors, and to Kim T., all the paper shavings you need for Steve's hair.

Tricia Evans, my trumpet slot to Chris Hayden, my parking space to no one, because it stinks, the ability to mature to D.A., and the privelege to be the only girl at a table of guys in lunch to Stefanie Espie.

Tommy Fusco, my kicked-in locker that won't close to anyone sloppy enough to keep it. My ability to get frustrated in accounting II to anyone stupid enough to take it.

Sharon Gordon, to Christine S., good luck and good wishes for the "up and coming miracle!", Tara L., a piece of gum for all those you gave me. To Shonna B. and Russi J., have fun in the barrels without all of us.

Kenneth E. Graves, to every up coming graduating class of Lone Oak High School I give daisies.

Brian Green, my locker, #69, to someone who'll appreciate it. Neil Pierce. My "Fire Woman" shirt to Mrs. Thompson. And my second most prized possession, my tie-dyed Hendrix shirt, stays with me. Voodoo Child lives.

Tina Briggs, my seat in calculus to any junior stupid enough to take it. I leave my ability to take notes at the speed of light (this learned in Coach McGroarty's class) to no one. I'll need it in college.

Eric Grogan, my superior ability to flex my cheeks to Neil Pierce and my ability to make Mrs. Whitson irate to anyone brave enough to take my place.

Eric Gross, my position as vice-president of the FFA to Boboy Adams, and my speaking ability on Dairy Impromptu to anyone who thinks that they could do a better job than I did.

Jamie Hamlin, all my red and black marks in Mr. Parson's room to Todd Miller. "Just put them on his tab."

Lisa Harper, to Tina Lambert and Angie Turner, all of my wonderful times of my senior year. To Carolyn Thomas, all of my good times in lunch, and to Deanna Willett, my chair in choir.

Steve Harper, my love to play "real loud" to Aaron Meredith and Tim Black. My ability to get in and out of trouble to Staci Sanderson. And my ability to park to Amy Newton.

Nicky Harnice, my tennis genius and leadership to Tim Black and Chad Seabaugh. My Nike t-shirt collection to Clay Humphrey. My adv. math grades to whomever will take them.

Amy Haskins, to Sheri Little- E.T., Julie Grogan- some more crunches, Renee Hollingsworth- AWESOME- Millie Lynn and Kerri Roach- a deck of cards, and to Rhonda Reid- a date with F.M.M.

Chad Hawes, my ability to take an entire year of chemistry, never understanding a thing and still maintaining a C to Jason Burchard, if he is still alive.

Julie Hollifield, to Melissa Korte, my spot on the golf team and yearbook (the aspirin's in the cabinet). To Monica Tinsley, a road map to Lexington. To Lori Hayes, my brainstorm, you're a great co-editor to work with.

Heather Holladay, my parking space to Krista Gronefeld, hoping her car won't blow up like mine did, and my remarkable ability to procrastinate as much as possible on any assignment to anyone who takes English 12A.

Matt Holland, my nickname, Maddog, to Mike Gholson and my parking space, #287, to Robin Fuller so she won't have to walk far. Finally, I leave my locker to anyone who wants it.

Richard Hopkins, my missing fender to someone who can find it. Some green apple gum to Mark and Brian, and my knife sharpener to Ron Griffin.

Heather Housman, my inability to stay conscious in Mrs. Whitson's AP calculus class to anyone who needs the sleep, and my parking space to my sister who will have the privilege of driving the "TANK."

Jamey Jennings, to E.P., my place in instrumental ensemble, J.K., Jamie, Christina, and Sabrina's phone numbers. To B.S. and A.S., I leave my love. Thanks for everything. To T.C., those 8 X 10's I promised, and to J.L.G., a granola bar.

LeTonia Jones, to my brother, Dan, LOTS OF LAUGHS!! To Shannon Wallis, my ability to always speak the truth, my quick wit, and another District Championship! Natalie M., take my seat in adv. math, hope "you" have fun!

Patricia Jones, to Gwyn Hughes I will my ability to play basketball and my uniform. To Angie Jones and Leslie Larrison I will the ability of leadership and many more fun times. Hang in there guys!

Amy Kaufman, my parking spot to Kori Cooper, a warm camper to Jennifer Mabry, Cassie Mason, and "Big Ja," a new Suburban to GraPee, and a jumbo pack of Sticklets to everyone in world civ. class.

Nathan Kelley, to Lenny my ability to waste time in art class. I also donate about 40 lbs. to Eddie Church's physique, Mr. McGroarty, a bottle of Grecian Formula.

Jason Kinsey, my parking place in the middle of the parking lot to whomever wants it. My ability and uniqueness to get away with certain things to my brother, Chad, and my locker to my cousin, John.

Jana Koch, my excellent skipping abilities to my little brother, Greg. I hope he gets in as much trouble as I did. To Spanish Melissa I leave my awesome car and all my senior memories.

Katrina Lambert, my parking place and my ability to drive a five-speed to Chris Hayden. Everything else I leave to my friends who follow. I'm outta here, dudes.

Tom Largent, my parking place and locker to Heather Bonds just in case she can't get a better one. My excellent form running ability to Fergy (he'll need it), and my annoying goose calling ability to Troy and Greg Richards.

Brittany Lawrence, my ability to tolerate cheerleading practices to Amy Newton, my parking spot to Jason Burchard, my supply of green apple gum to Brian Krueger and Mark Summers and my locker and all it's contents to Jenny Stephon.

Jason Leath, my marching baritone to Tuna Fish Gish, my position on loading crew to anyone dumb enough to take it, my rebellious attitude to Peaceful Rob, and my ability to tick Mr. Light off to "The Gift."

Cassie Lewis, the intelligence to all those fools who cause the deaths of millions of animals, the hearts to care, and to my wonderful sister, Marci, my "little Bungandy Boat." To Kori, keep being the wonderful person you are.

Melissa Martin, to Wendi Langston all of the fun times in FHA and all of the problems I had with all the guys. And to Wendy Mitchell my messy locker in the senior hall. Good luck to both of you.

Dan McDermott, my front row parking space to Neil Pierce since he parks there every day anyway and my Calculus seat and former aide position to Mark Chumbler—I hope you are as successful as I was!!

Jennifer McNeill, my locker and all its contents to Jamie Miller and my luck at skipping without being caught to Rhonda Morris, and my parking spot 147 to anyone dumb enough to park out that far.

Terri McWaters, my choir chair to whoever can stand Mr. Murphy. My AP English place to Tina Lambert, may she cook great desserts. My second row parking place to Natalie Meadows so she doesn't have to walk from McCarthy's Studio.

Ryan Midyett, locker #19 and my parking spot to my one and only true love—Christine, and driving ability to Keith Eads. Seniors: Like one shepard said to the other shepard, "Let's get the flock outta here!"

David Millay, Glenn Gagnon all of my Hank Williams Jr. paraphernalia including tapes, posters, etc. and my assigned parking spot by Minit Mart for his 4-wheel drive.

Jon Mitchell, my sense of humor to "Blow Fish Rob". I leave my hair to Rodney Hook. I leave my parking spot to Jennifer and Cassie and I leave all my trashed folders to Cal Wren.

Jenny Moore, Josh, my parking spot only if he gets his license before he's 72. To Shane Walraven, I leave my seat in detention and my heavy metal first hour.

Joe Morton, my intellect to Amy Weedman, my body to science, and my grammar skills to all who must endure English 12.

Miranda Mullis, my locker and parking space to Tracey Elia, all my memories and good times to my precious baby sister, Jessica, hoping she'll have more fun than I could ever dream about, and to Jeremy, I leave all my love.

Shannon Mungle, my unbelievable tennis genius to Tim Black, my arm to Chad Sebaugh, I also leave my car and clothes to Kelley Seay. Other than that I leave nothing to anyone because no one is worthy of my possessions.

Traci Myers, all my useful school supplies to my sister, Tammy, and my physics book to anyone who wants it. May it never be opened again.

Tinna Katreece Nichols, all the parties and great times I have had to the parties of 91'. Don't mess things up, party hard and look for trouble, because it will be looking for you!

Beth Oakley, my unused locker to Amy Weitlauf. My ability to talk in choir and not get caught to Shelly Morris and Brittany Rushing. I leave my ability to graduate to Lenny Powley, as if he needed it.

Kristi Oglesby, my Algebra II book and #978 to anyone crazy enough to want it. I hope you can do better than I did. Also, I pass down my position as Mrs. Brugger's Aide. (Good Luck.)

Ricky O'Nan, my artistic license to Pepper. To C.H. I leave what you'd leave, nothing. To Seeka, a bunch of trouble; my english classes to Mrs. Campbell!?

John Perry, my drum head bursting, drumstick breaking, and loud playing abilities to Chistin Krilders. Good luck, next year's drum line, you're gonna need it!

Sherri Phillips, my books and locker to Misty Chadwell; all my good times and memories to my sister, Angie Phillips.

Tammy Phillips, my wild & crazy times to Angie Phillips; my ability to be late to Misty Chadwell; being able to graduate to Brad Ray.

Shannon Pittman, the bass drums to any unsuspecting freshmen, my parking space to Wendie Langston (to get out of band in a hurry), and my dog Sparky to Rob Davis (he needs a friend).

Dava L. Poole, the fun of being a senior to April, Kelli, Wilkey, and Tammi.
I leave my study habits to Brent, To Russi, Shanna, and Jennifer. I leave my ability to sing and head bang.

Melinda Purvis, my wonderful locker to Sheri Shelter, my ability not to get caught with gum to Stacey Perry, and my ability to actually come to school occasionally to Lisa Skinner.

Tessa Roberts, my parking slot to Kori Cooper so she'll have two to choose from, a truckload of breadsticks to Renee Hollingsworth, and a 2-liter bottle of Jolt Cola to AnGeez Butawald.

Brad Robertson, Badness says to whom it may concern I leave my spot in left field and #5 to the Badness Outlaw in school.

Jason Rodgers, my parking spot #197 to anyone who drives a Chevy 4WD (No Fords! No Exceptions!) and my nursery abilities to Glen Gagnon.

Andy Roper, my Home Ec. skills to Tyler Frazier, my ability to play guitar to Tim Story, my expertise in retailing to Charlie Poat, and my parking spot and ability to drive to Jennifer Powell.

Amy Rushing, to all of the sophomores and juniors all of the great times of being upper classmen! Have fun and good luck!

Tiffany Rushing, to my sister Brittany Rushing everything I ever had in high school, especially the great times and my ability to skip. Love Ya! Shannon Wallis, all the power to ya! Raise some next year in sorority!

Amy Russell, to Jennifer Oster my good grades and my seat in Mr. Wells' class (hope you don't have him again). Keep smiling and Keep the Faith!

Loretta Rutherford, to Shonna Brewer, Brandon Wood, and Krystal Cox the ability to party their Junior and senior years. Also I will my official locker 105 to Shonna and Brandon.

Eric Schmitt, my chair in band to an undeserving freshman, and will my SADD office to a deserving underclassman. I leave with remarks to Shannon Sharp and Michael Foster. And may I rest in peace.

Steve Seavert, my ability to skip to Eddie and Holly and my parking space to anyone who wants it. 'cause I never used it.

Tammy Seay, my faithful 4th hour computer to Ningy Cow, and my English chair to Jelly and friends, my locker to Chris and lastly I leave all of LOHS to my little sister who I dearly love.

Lisa Shields, to Tammi Hudson any class of mine you want and Daniel. To Valerie Wooley my locker and my books to do with whatever you want! Have a blast!

Melanie Sigler, the senior section of the yearbook to any staff member brave enough to take it. To Coach Clark I will anyone who can manage basketball four years for him.

Jimmy Smallwood, my locker to whoever gets it, my knowledge to Tonya Griggs, my conduct to Branon Smallwood, and my books to the school.

Shawn Smith, a carton of cigarettes to Mrs. Campbell for every sign putting down smoking. My locker goes to Val and the smoking barrels to Jennifer, Debbie, Rickey, and Jason. And my leftover credits go to Doug Davidson.

Preston Snelling, my football jersey #83 to anyone tough enough to wear it. I also leave my ability to write my own excuses for being late every morning to anyone who cares to try. Yo!

Jennifer Snow, to Scott and Tricia an apartment at Fernwood and an unlimited supply of "tokens". To Andre Blagg, Madame Gholson's grande, verte dictionnaire francaise, and to Amy Kilpatrick a barrette for speech days.

Jamey Snyder, leave my Corvette, to whoever wants the piece of junk, but the stereo and my D and D skills go to both Neil Pierce and Donovan Sullivan. Use them well!

Michael Spencer, my awesome stereo, that always beat Snyder's, to Tim Semmons, who needs all of the help he can get. I hope this helps him to get out of Kenwood and Majestic. I will my Corvette to whoever wants to buy it!

Lisa Streetman, to Jason Shoulta my ability to get away with anything and to Jay Whalen my ability of yelling at Mr Mizell and him actually listening and taking me seriously. The rest to whoever would want it.

Tracy Stinson, my locker to Molly Williams, attitude to Tracey McClain, fun to Cindy Hooker, my chair (and trouble) in Mr. Parsons class & memories to Shonna Brewer.

Brad Stubblefield, all my empty shells to Greg Richards, all my shadows to Cliff Harper. I leave my books and teachers to my brother, and my Bronco to whoever wants to buy it.

Kevin Thompson, my soccer technique, skill and Jersey #20 to Rod Hook, my jalopy of a saxophone to research English 12 A.P. seat to anyone willing to "seize the day," and Adv. Biology to anyone "seizing the fly."

Misty Thompson, my boring seat in Mrs. Thompson's English class to Clay Thompson, all the days I got caught skipping to Macy Walker and all my wild and crazy days to Tracey & Christine.

Paul Thompson, my parking spot to Deanna Willett, lord knows she needs two to back in to! I pass the family tradition of making Pope's life miserable to my little brother, Tony. Keep up the good work!

Linda Thorn, my days of skipping school to Brenda Law, My meanness to Russi Johnson. Have a good one!

Chris Throgmorton, my unused locker to Stephanie Emery. All my skipping days to Molly Williams. My ability to get along with Mrs. Wright to Jeff Dykes, and all my fun and happy memories to Cindy Hicks.

Erent Thurston, To everyone in this school who is deserving, a boot to the head.

Wendell Tones, whatever I got to whoever is dumb enough to want it, except for 1st chair in band, I leave that to the toughest trombone player, Rodney Hook vs. Bret Morris.

Kris Troughber, my sense of stupidity to Chris Mathews so that he may never take life too seriously.

John Tucker, Sara Adams and Jana Butler my ability to goof off and not do homework, my parking space and driving skills to Donnie Gold, and my artistic licence to Dwight Pepper.

Marcy Turner, my sister, Angie, all of my senior memories of L.O.H.S. love ya! I will Joey Robinson the ability to be "teacher's pet" in choir, just as I was. Ha!

Maggie Vogt, my seat in Mrs. Campbell's 2nd hour English class and all my fun times my senior year to Tracey Elia, and my locker to Lori Rutherford. Good luck! You'll need it.

Bobby Waldrige, 50,000 miles of tread off my back tires to the school's parking lot! I also leave my various parking spots to anyone who wants them.

Julie Walker, the ashes of my calculus book to those who think, as I did, they can survive AP calculus, and my FBLA office of V.P. to Scott Coover. "Look at me when I talk to you!"

Kevin Wallace, my choir folder to Bo Rushing, who will use it about as much as I did, and my seat in Coach McGroarty's anatomy and physiology class to anyone who thinks that they can take it.

Brian Waltman, my parking spot to Craig Sullivan, my Lennon glasses to Jason Huffine, my ability to sleep through class to Chris Keeling, and my attitude to anyone who gets Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Tittsworth, or Mrs. Whitson.

Beth Watson, my rifle to Tina Lambert, 6th chair flute to Holly Holland, and my "senioritis" to Mark Chumbler. Enjoy it!

Kelly Watson, the remains of my calculus book to Tim Black. I leave my annual spot on the 50 yardline to Jennifer Mabry and to Cassie Mason.

Fred Wayne, my ability to "rap" to the women to Percy Ferris, my Mc hammer and B-Brown dance moves to Greg Shelton and Pierre Middleton, and my GQ wardrobe to Greg Ross. Peace!

Johnna Wheatley, all my partying to Shonna Brewer and my great times playing softball to Tammy Berkley.

Bryan Williams, all the headaches of this school to those who must stay behind; see ya later!!!

Shawn Williamson, my temper to Tammy Myers, my "I don't care" attitude to Tina Lambert, and my parking space to Stacey Hudson.

Steve Wilson, my locker, my only book and my skipping days to Sargeant Hodges. I leave my partying days and wild times to Brandon Wood, Shonna Brewer, and Russ Johnson. ENJOY!!!

Karen Witt, Deshae Binford, my chemistry lab reports, which I inherited last year. To Charity Johnson, my collection of college brochures, and my seat in choir to anyone dumb enough to take it.

Doug Womack, my parking space to whoever wants it, because I never parked there, and everything else, if there is anything, to anyone who wants it.

Mark Wyatt, all my ugly sides to Tina Lambert, my genius to Mark Chumbler, my favorite verse to Jennifer Burnette, my stupidity to Chris Mathews, and all of my shiniest pennies to Stacey Hickey.

Chad Young, the Mothman Society to Garland Crawford, in hope that he may one day stop the wide-spread slaughtering of moths and find the king. What a long, strange trip it's been.

Chris Zabel, my chair and book in AP calculus to anyone eccentric enough to take them. My position as percussion section leader to Kristen Childers, and my nickname of "Shorty" to anyone who thinks they're shorter than I am.
