Meredith and Weber Graduate at Top of Class

Aaron Meredith

Robert Weber

BY SARAH WILLIAMSON

Four years of diligence and "sticktoitiveness" have been worthwhile for two of Lone Oak High School's graduates of the class of 1991. The valedictorian is Aaron Meredith, graduating with a 4.0 grade point average. Robert Weber is salutatorian of his class with a 3.98 GPA.

Meredith plans to attend North Carolina State University and study pulp and paper science and chemical engineering.

A trumpet player in the band, Meredith has also been involved in Beta Club, FCA, FBLA, the track team and was a 1990 Governor Scholar Participant at Centre College in Danville, Kentucky. The teachers who have influenced him the most throughout his high school career are Mr. Sensing and Mrs. Whitson. His best memories of high school are band trips, dances, sporting events and hanging out with friends.

Meredith says, "I really enjoyed high school, but I'm ready to get out and go to college."

Senior Wills

I, _____, Being of sound mind and body, do hereby will . . .

GWEN ADAMS: my height to Christie Carroll; my ability to wear "non-revealing" tank tops everyday without a problem to Jenni LeGrande, and my ability to pass a driving test to Carrie Hopper.

CHRISTY ALDERSON: my senior memories to my favorite cousin Leigh Ann Alderson; all my tanning appointments to Holly Riggs, hopefully she will get darker, and my Chemistry study group/pizza party to Matt Morse. Good Luck!

ANGIE AMES: my baseball manager's position to Paul Grimm; my locker to my brother, hopefully he will keep it cleaner than I did. To Shane Walraven I give all the fun and roofless times we had.

KELLI BAILEY: my hatred of the "farm lady" to Brent; my ability to get out of first hour to Sprout; my rulemaking abilities to Jen; my demented humor to Sarah; a big dose of female chauvinism to Mr. Sensing, and my bluntness to Tab.

TERRY BANKS: my driving ability and my number to Jason Jackson.

TAMMY BERKLEY: my position on the softball team and #7 jersey to Gwyn; my ability to raise twenty different kinds of heck in band to Jenny, and all my looks to anyone who can find them.

DAVID BEYER: all my worldly possessions to Carrie (if you don't know which Carrie, you don't know me.) I'd also like to will all my money to Carrie since that's where it all goes anyway. Finally, I will my parking spot to Keith Byrd because that's where he always parks when I skip lunch anyway.

DESHEA BINFORD: my locker #15 to anyone who can fix the door. To "Rosey" I leave my position as pitcher on the softball team. To Christine Oktea I leave all my hope for her in Accounting II. Good Luck!!

TIM BLACK: my racquets to tennis trainer extraordinaire Greg Koch; my trumpet/band experiences to block-Ed Church, and, finally I bequeath one ounce of intelligence to freshman fool Michael DiVinni.

BRIAN BLAGG: all of my fun times in high school to Heather Williams, but the best times we share anyway.

ELISHA BOHANNON: all big cabbage to Shannon Bement; to Mike and Cindy, the awesome Gremlin; all my fun times to Scott.

REBECCA BOUDREAUX: my golf clubs to Melissa Korte; my musical talent to Kelly Speer; contents of my locker to Antonio Townsley and my used wigs to Jill Davis.

CHRIS BRANDON: this school and its faculty, whom I have well trained, to my sister. I leave all my parking spots, lockers and fun times to Mille, and my ability to always be in the hall to whomever is good enough to get away with it.

DEDE BREWER: my typing ability to Ronnie Gandok and Brendon Martin; my locker to Mandy and Shell; my math book to Teresa Taylor and all my cool times in FHA to Gidget Potter and Gwen Kaler.

STEVE E. BROWN: my finger splints to anyone on the football team unlucky enough to need them and all the memories I had as a senior to no one (Let them create their own memories like the Class of '91 did).

TIM BRUCE: my parking spot and big oil spot to Mark Spraggs.

MICHAEL BURGESS: my Spectrum Express to Chris Russell and my sentimentality and respect for authority to Chad Womack. I also leave my great study habits to Shari Terry.

JENNIFER BURNETTE: my position as president of the Phi Alpha Delta sorority to Holly Riggs. I will my locker to my sister Amy Burnette, hoping that she will keep it as clean as I did.

STEPHANIE BURNETT: Natalie Meadows all of my great memories of being a Senior.

SCOTT CARON: my PT (pine time) in baseball to Tommy Massa; my AP Calculus seat to no one (because no one deserves such cruelty) and remember, be excellent to each other, and... PARTY ON DUDES!!

CHRIS CASH: my locker to Tabitha Wright; my computer "skills" to the Packer, Blair Tolar; my lunch seat to my incoming sister Michele, and Eternal Life and Joy to anyone who accepts Jesus as their saviour.

NICOLE CHADWELL: my locker and books to my sister Misty Chadwell; to Chad Kinsey I leave the ability to take care of my little sister, and to Jason Snyder I leave all my great memories of my senior year.

TRICIA CLEMENT: my ability to "walk" to Stef; my ability to sing to the radio on a Friday night to Heather; my hotel key to the Executive Inn, room 421, to Joey, and my driving ability, no matter how bad it is, to Janet, who needs all the help she can get.

CHAD CRAIG: my exhausting study habits to Summer Wallis; my shoes to Beth Joiner; my parking space to Blair Tolar; my always excused absences to Mike King and my perfect driving skills to Matt Lovelace.

KORI COOPER: my ability to leave home at 7:41 and still get to class on time to Laura Borders. To Staci Sanderson I'm leaving my parents because they will need someone else to keep their lives exciting after I'm gone.

LAURA COPE: my seat in AP Calculus to Melissa Korte; my spot on LOST to Mary Weber, and all my wild and crazy times to Holly Riggs and Leigh Ann Alderson.

NICHOLE COX: to Eric Roberts my fine taste in R&B music; to Casey Walker: E-I-E-I-O; to Staci Sanderson: a radar detector, and to Nicloe Wayne and Theresa Oden: the two tallest guys in the country.

TODD DOTSON: my ability to make A's in Co-op class without having a 100 all year to Todd Miller.

DANNY DOWELL: my parking spot to Jason Snyder to keep the Camaro tradition; my locker to Brian Krueger; my books and earthquake warnings to Jennifer McIntosh, and all the fun times to everyone. Good Luck!

CHRIS DRIVER: my ability to go insane and all of my connections to Blair Tolar, and a salad bar to Mike Keeney so he can eat on Fridays.

STEFANIE ESPIE: C.K. nights to Chad and Pat; hairspray and matches to Patrick, Erik and Michael "To life immortal"; S.H. to Liz and Wendy; B.H.D.U.L.M. to Amy, Joey-"Popeye," and koosh balls to everyone I kooshed on bus 1.

BRITNEY FESMIRE: my messy locker to Eric Roberts, my parking space 298 to Johnna Waggoner; all of my laughter to Tara Wilkinson; my wonderful times in choir to Tabitha Wright, and my wild and crazy times to Brent Pittman.

MARK FIELDS: my locker to a person who will be himself (or herself.) Remember at all times that no one knows you better than yourself. Make sure to respect other people for who they are too. PEACE!

ERIC FRANKLIN: all my forged excuses to anyone who can get by with them like I did.

DARREN GEARY: leave my concern of Dwight Pepper's sanity; my job at Bob's to Christy Alderson's little brother; my sleeping in class ability to Rodney Terry.

DENNIS GIBSON: all of my good old Roy McKamey days to Keith Byrd; all of the fishin' days to Mike Smith, Chris Russell, and Shane Walraven; and all the Zebco 2000's go to Steve Hall.

WENDY GILBERT: leave "The Dice/Gift" my generic parking spot; more special sauce to the Big Macs; my demented stories to EJP, MCF, SDE, JAK, and all the food in the world mixed together to Big Macin' Alf.

MONICA HOLT: my job as Coach Hopper's 2nd hour aide to Brian Wyatt, for being my worst trouble maker; my parking space to Christle Turner; my locker I never used to Tracie Powers, and my fun times at trade school to Kevin Lockett.

CINDY HOOKER: keep all my memories of high school with me leaving no one anything except to the basketball team I solely leave my Homecoming crown.

JASON HUFFINE: my unused athletic ability to Coach Roth (he needs it); my Mic Dark that Mr. Rushing took from me to Glenn Gagnon, don't get caught with it, Glenn, you might be A-school bound again; my memories to no one, let them create their own the way the Class of '91 did!!

CASSIDY JAMISON: give Joseph Howard my parking place, dirty underwear, old pair of socks, fat lip, black eye, and a locker full of Junk!!

LAURA JOHNSTON: to Matt Lockett my seat in computers; my seat in Mr. Wells class to Lee when she repeats it, and my position on the softball team to anyone who is willing to sacrifice their knees sliding into home.

SHERI JONES: my seat in Word Processing to Matt Lockett; my choir folder (the one with the hole in it) to Susan Knott; my Detroit Piston memorabilia to Staci Sanderson, and my seat in Advanced English to Melissa Korte.

VRATISLAV JOSEPH KEJZLAR: my saved lunch money to D.M. my cutting line ability to J.K.; my unshared locker to C.P.; my ability to sleep in without being tardy to T.J., and my hair to any Steven Seagal wannabe.

JAY KING: my talents, my cooperativeness, and my love for the teachers and authority to Chad Kinsey; my lunch food leftovers to Chris Russell, and my brains to Amy Schmidt, because she needs it.

PEGGY KIRBY: my seat in Mr. Parson's class to anyone who can give him as much heck as I did. I leave my ability to pass a class to Rikki Box; my locker I leave to Kerry Lockett, since it is on top, and I leave my ability to make people laugh to Debbie Smith.

JOEY KRIMPLE: all my fun times I've had the past four years to Matt F. (you'll need them for those boring weekends in Po-dunk-a); my cool-guy-ed-ness to Tim S., Glendon C., Ty S., and Jimmy D.; my unique driving ability to Andrew E. (who desperately needs it), and my patience with Mrs. Hayden to Tiffany C. and Jenny S. Later!

JUSTIN LAMPE: my car stereo advice to Rob Hanrahan who runs eight speakers off of his factory radio, "Buy an amp!"

MARCI LECH: my spot in detention to Ellen Sweatt; my ability to be "roof-less" to Shane Walraven, and all of my fun times as a Senior to Andrew Engler.

DEANNA LINDSEY: my ability to be sarcastic to Jason Jackson; my wild sense of humor to Angie Turner, and all my good luck to my little brother, he'll need it to survive.

JENNIFER MABRY: my love to David; my locker to Cory Helse; my parking space to Erin Steadham; my ability to always have something to say to Amy Sturm, and last but certainly not least, to Holly Holland I leave all the fun and forever precious memories of high school.

KYLA MARTIN: my locker to Deann Wiggins; my locker shelves to Kim Caron; all the times in Mrs. Brugger's room to Rob Hanrahan, and all the good times to Jason Kunsman, Janet Terry, Chrissy Whitelock and Jennifer Reynolds.

SCOTT MARTIN: Mrs. Hayden my patience and understanding; Todd Riley my place on the soccer bench; to Charles Humphrey I leave the ability to perturb women, and to Bird the ability to smoke without getting caught.

TRACEY McCLAIN: Angie Little the ability to go out to her car and not get caught, and also the loving attitude toward school and guys, and my locker and parking space to anyone dumb enough to take them.

"AIR" PIERRE MIDDLETON: a dozen roses to all the fine ladies.

JAIME MILLER: my seat in Home Economics to Tracy Jones; my seat in Mr. Wells' class to anyone bored enough to take it, and I leave to Mike Ceglinski and Andy Stubblefield my gum, candy or mints.

JENNIFER MOORE: my front row parking space to my sister Angie, along with my offices; all my fun times and clothes that I can leave behind to Ansley Hunter and Tisha Jones, and everything else I will share with Aaron Wilson.

MATT MOORE: my ability to roam the halls during class, get in trouble by Mrs. Wallace, and my skipping ability to Josh Moore; my ability to charm teachers and cheat on tests to Stacey Spence, and my football, baseball and Phi Alpha Delta positions to whoever is charming enough to take them.

MELISSA MORALES: my heart and my ability to always get my homework copied at the last minute to Eric Roberts; my overwhelming excitement at 8:00 A.M. to John Cason, and my position on the annual staff to whoever thinks he/she can hack it!

RHONDA MORRIS: my days as a senior to Keith Eads and Ricky Brookshire; the rest of my school belongings to anybody who wants them, and my partying weekends to Angie Jones.

CHRIS NEIHOFF: my office and library aide positions to whoever is clever enough to cheat the system and develop your own set of rules; I also will my ability to drive teachers crazy to everybody; teachers deserve it.

TONYA NEUNER: my locker and English 12 books to Stacy Bruce, my parking space to Jill Walker (good luck in dodging all the glass) and my fun times and exploring experiences to my little sister as she is becoming a freshman; good luck Nev!!!

AMY NEWTON: many fun and exciting times in the family-mobile to Brittany Rushing, a lifetime full of cartwheels and smokestacks to Ellen Sweatt, and to Scott Coovert and Todd Wagner, "Va Power!"

SHANE ORANGE: to Rena Beyer my love and affection and to Antonia Townsley I leave all the loose change he asks for.

SHARON OWENS: my personal belongings to my family and friends; I'll leave it all up to my sister Karen.

ELIZABETH PALMER: A.E. "doves that cry," P.H. "bandages," M.F. my ability not to get caught and all my fun in band, and to all the freshmen in band my ability to infuriate Mr. Light.

KERI PIERCE: my ability to skip first hour and leave after second hour to Ricky Brookshire; I leave everything else to whoever wants it.

LYNNE PIERCE: my locker to Holly Riggs, my parking spot to Shannon Wallis, and my car to my brother Matt. If I have anything else to give away, I leave all of those "leftovers" to Jill Davis.

NEIL PIERCE: my stereo to Mr. Toy because he will put it to good use. I leave my low rider to anyone that wants it and all my love to Charwan Walraven.

CHARLEY POAT: my top football locker to Chris Bowling, my horrible parking spot to anyone who wants to walk that far. I leave my office aide job to anyone who wants a free hour.

MICHAEL POWELL: my literature book to whoever has stolen it; my seat in Mrs. Campbell's AP English class to whoever is dumb enough to take it; and my spot on the golf team to whoever is willing to walk to the next fairway to hit their ball.

LEONARD POWLEY: my ability to roam the halls to Shane Walraven, who has a good start already; my ability to scam to Daniel Sutton; and my ability to skip school and use the same excuse over and over and not get caught to Chris Gollightly.

KRISTI DAWN RAFFIDY: my single life to Teresa Taylor, I won't need it when I marry Dwayne on 6/22/91! And to the so-called snobs, get a new attitude on life! To all my friends, good luck!

TINA REDFERN: my parking spot to anyone who couldn't get on the front row; to Joe Howard my good attendance; my locker to whoever wants it; to David Rose my love for country music.

PAULA REYNOLDS: my little "sis" Jennifer my parking spot, locker, and great times; I give my dearest love and thanks to two very important people in my life, Mom and Tina. My memories belong to only me!

TROY RICHARDS: my football gear and locker to Garland Crawford, my ability to irritate the crap out of Mrs. Thompson to my brother Greg Richards.

MELISSA RICK: my lovely art class experiences to Cory Greene; my locker and parking spot to my younger sister Mandy; my chair and lunch table to Perry Beyer; my writing ability to Glendon Campbell, good luck in passing English next year! And last some of my good grades to Shelli.

BRYAN RICKS: my intramural basketball ability and my presence on the All-Star team to Ryan Davis. I leave my locker (#117) to anybody who thinks they are good enough to have it, and my parking space (#200) to Keith Ballard.

PAMELA ROBERTS: all of my classes, textbooks, and headaches to anyone with the courage to take them. Notice: you must understand math better than I do!

KERRI ROACH: my seat in Physics class to Millie Lynn, in hope that she will enjoy hearing Mr. Sensings's stories over, and over, and over again! My seat in Advanced Math to Cherie Little in hopes she'll understand it better than Geometry, and my seat in Advanced English to Rhonda Reid, in hopes that she won't get quite so irritated at all the homework as we all did!!!

FRANK J. ROBINSON: my shoulder injuries to anyone who wants to get an owie next year playing football; and most of all, my love to Jennifer forever. I love you baby!

LAURIE ROOF: everything I own, which is nothing, to my parents; they gave me (nothing) everything and I'll give it all back; my sister may have my clothes.

BO "KNOWS" RUSHING: my choir folder to Brad Carney in hopes that it will improve his singing abilities; and to Leslie Seifert my locker so that she won't have to share a locker with six other people.

KIM SAMPLE: my top locker to Kisten Lain and Melanie Williams; all my school books to Jenni LeGrande and everything else to my bratty brother Tyler, who will be a freshman.

ANGELA SCHILDT: Melissa my brain; to Robbie Betts, a muzzle for his mouth; to Michael Betts the ability to say "NO!"; to Wendy, my prom dress.

ROBERT SCHNEIDER: all my happy experiences and good grades to Shanna Wurth; all my books to the custodian for him to burn; all my chairs to the unfortunate souls who had to sit up in front of class.

CHAD SEABAUGH: my spot on the tennis team to Andy Stubblefield; my ability to "shank" tennis balls to Jeremy Smith; my locker to Marcie Lewis; and my parking spot to Brian Mudd if he ever stops riding the bus.

BILLY SEITZ: my locker for next year to Jennifer McIntosh.

JASON SHOULTA: all the pens and pencils I've borrowed from Mrs. Campbell back to her, and everything else to my main squeeze Sherry.

TIM SIMMONS: Aaron Gibson my pitching arm (just kidding, it wouldn't help him), and my haircut to Chad Kinsey.

LORI SPEAR: To Scott Covert, my fondest memories of the Beta Convention ("WOBERT WULES!") and the FBLA state conference. To Melissa Korte, oodles of fun at Girls State (ha, ha, ha!) and lots of fun(?) sorority memories. To Matt Morse, a new lunch buddy (although I don't know who could ever really replace me!) and my good grades (if you want them!) To Kara VanNoy, my ability to speed to Minit Mart in 5 minutes or less between the last two bells -- you're going to have to be quick to do that at Ballard! And last but not least, to Sarah Williamson, my much-coveted (ha, ha!) position as "Miss Editor;" my talent of cutting stories as closely as possible without cutting any words (you're going to need it!); a diamond-cut, 24K gold exacto knife; and may you have as fantastic of a week at Western this summer as I did last summer!

RYAN STIGALL: my Acura Integra (with stereo system) to the "Camaro Boys"; my hot tub to Donna Phillips; all my radical ideas of anarchy and no religion to Chris Darnell.

HEATHER STOUT: my partying habits to Jenny Stephon and Francine Stearns; my books and locker to anyone else who will take them.

CRAIG SULLIVAN: my sense of humor to Mr. Whitley, because everyone knows the kind of jokes he tells; and my parking space to whoever can park in it as crooked as I do.

CLAY THOMPSON: my locker in the senior hall to Macy Walker. Take care of it; in four years, it's the only top locker I've had.

SHANNON VEATCH: my parking place to Christy Skaggs, who will hopefully have a new car soon; all my memories and my few great times at this school to Britney Woods and Matt Pierce; my football manager position to any girl strong enough to put up with it! Good Luck!

ANGIE VINCENT: my seat in AP Calculus to anyone who thinks they can take the pressure; my "sting-free" sunscreen to Brent Pittman; my computer ability (Ha!) to Erin Steadham; and my good times to my sister Amy.

VALERIE VOGEL: my parking spot to Tony Thompson, maybe it will be big enough; my Calculus book to anyone who has nothing else to do but homework; and my locker to my sister Debbie, have fun!

ROBERT "DUDLEY" WAGNER: tennis and its challenges to Greg Koch; my new age music to Jason Snyder, and to my brother Clay. I agree to lease him my room for the next four years, for nominal fee!

SEAN WALLIS: my ability to make the basketball team to Matt Lovelace; my locker shelves to Jill Davis and Jennifer McIntosh, use them well; and my seat in Geometry to anyone who "Chose to take the class."

CHRIS "BB" WATSON: leave my ability to choose between truth or dare to Daniel Sutton; to J. Linsey all my sentences in Mr. Pope's class and a calculator to do his math.

SCOTT WEBBER: my locker to anyone who can find it. Last I leave to Jason Snyder gel for his hair and soap so he can keep his car clean.

ROBERT WEBER: my nickname, Chuck, to nobody (I want to keep it); my LO baseball cap to Brian Hite; my knowledge of the Civil War to anybody as nuts as I am, and my seat in AP Calculus to the garbage truck. Oh, BE EXCELLENT TO EACH OTHER!

AMY WEEDMAN: my captainship to Erin Steadham; my locker #69 to Suzanne Coley, and my ability to tolerate guard and band camp to Jody Vandergriff and Denise Lawson.

ANTHONY WELLS: my self-cunning attitude, my beautiful brain, my blue eyes, and my wonderful smile to Molly Williams; my poetic ability and dreams to Glenn Gagnon; and my car to Greg Gagnon.

JAY WHALEN: the Dear-Happy Advice column to Mrs. Stewart; my craziness to Mike Ceglinski; my "chunk power" to Josh Moore; the Love Boat to Jenni LeGrande; my basketball ability to Jack Meece; all my love to Jenny Stephon; and more ambulance rides to Tommy Massa.

"TIGER" TIM WHITELOCK: my Physics book to anyone crazy enough for Mr. Sensing's tastes; my Advanced Biology book to anyone excited enough for Coach McGroarty; my English books to anyone who's motivated for the tons of homework Mrs. Campbell has prepared.

MICHELLE WILKERSON: my great times in band to Jenny S. (we've had some); my section leader position to Sarah; more fun times in band to Kristle (my sis). Good luck with the big guy! Well, I'm outta here!

TERRI WILKES: Suzanne Coley my parking space; my ability to be stupid to Jenny and Steph; to Tennille my sense of humor; to Charity and Brent, happy lunch bunching!; to Brian Shelton a bucket of chicken!

DEANNA WILLETT: my lil' sis', Tara and Lee, my basketball and softball positions and #11; to AJ my ability of leadership and big mouth! And to Dave, my "Wild Card Man," I leave my love! Magine!

EMILY WILSON: my position as football manager to Angie Moore; my locker and all my extra books to Janet Terry; my parking space to Aaron Wilson; my attendance in all my classes and all my love to Joseph Howard.

JULIE WILSON: my 5th hour stories to Carrie Hopper; my swimming ability to Shane Walraven; and all my great times as a senior to Glenn Gagnon and Matt Morse.

DAVID WITTE: leave all my worldly possessions to Jason Womack; my job to Brett Morris; my Bible to Julie Shelton; all my remote control airplanes to my Dad; and to Vrat Kejzlar, my mind. Finally, I leave my step mother...NOTHING!

If You Ask Me...

BY DAVID BEYER

This is it. The last "If You Ask Me..." I thought when I started this at the beginning of the year that I could really accomplish something. I mean, I've got a part of the newspaper every month to say whatever I want. But, after all this time, I really haven't done much of anything. Think about it. I didn't save the environment. I didn't solve the abortion issue (and I think I'll stay out of that one). and I'd just be willing to bet that they're still cutting down rain forests in Brazil. But then again, I wasn't trying to solve any of that. All I wanted to do was to give the few people who read my column a different look at things. Why, if just a few people smiled, or laughed at something I wrote, then I'm satisfied. For the rest of my living days, I can say "I made someone laugh, and I didn't even have to show them baby pictures of Mrs. Foster."

Come to think of it, there is one thing that I was wondering about and wanted an answer to. Is Elvis alive, and if he is, is he the real voice behind Milli Vanilli?

Lone Oak Sweeps Tourney

BY ROBERT WEBER

Going into the bottom of the sixth inning, it looked as if the LOHS baseball team would be driving home in silence. They were trailing the hometown Dyersburg High Golden Trojans 6-1 in the championship game of the Dyersburg Invitational Tournament. But, as they say, anything can happen.

Brian Hite lead off the Oakers' half (LOHS was home team due to a coin flip) of the inning with a walk. This was the beginning of a long string of walks to following Oakers which was highlighted by Chris Williams' RBI single. Brian Mudd capped off the big inning by driving in the winning run with a line drive single.

In the top of the seventh, Matt Moore, on in relief of starter Aaron Gibson, left the Golden Trojans and their fans open-mouthed as the young out talented Lone Oak squad celebrated their amazing 7-6 victory.

LOHS started the tournament with a nail-biting 2-1 victory over Campbell, MO on April 19. Southpaw hurler Tim Simmons went the distance, striking out five and walking only one.

The following afternoon, Jay King shut down the powerful Dyer County Choctaws in Lone Oak's 6-2 win. King ended the game by striking out the last two Dyer batters.

Track Update

The Lone Oak track and field team has been running, jumping and throwing in area competition for the past several weeks. On April 30, they competed in a four-team county meet at Heath. The boys team finished first while the girls finished runners-up to St. Mary. Overall, the LOHS team tied for first. Congratulations to the LOHS track and field team and Coaches Tony McGroarty and Tony Roth for another fine spring.

WEBER CONTINUED

Weber will be attending Wabash College in Crawfordsville, Indiana, on a full academic scholarship. He plans to major in history, political science or possibly English. He is going to play football and swim on the swim team at Wabash next fall.

As well as garnering honors, Weber has had a distinguished sports career in high school playing on the varsity football team for three years and the varsity baseball team for four years. He also swam on the Paducah Swim Team for three years. Weber was a Boy Scout for two years, a member of PCA, a member of Student Government and an active participant of Civil War re-enactments.

Weber says, "I think that Mr. Toy has been the biggest influence on me during high school. For one, he really introduced me to writing, both creative and expository. During my year in his class, I discovered that I enjoyed writing. Secondly, Mr. Toy first encouraged me to join a re-enacting unit.

He provided me with the number and address of a contact. I am appreciative of this since I have become addicted to re-enacting."

Weber also says, "I want to say that I have very much enjoyed going through high school at Lone Oak. There could be some improvements, but I think this is a pretty good place. My senior year has been just awesome. It was my friends who have made it awesome. You're a great bunch of people; good luck in the future."
